PREFACE.

The issue of the second part of this volume brings my notes on the surname of Marshall to a close. The indexes in this and the previous parts will, I hope, to some extent atone for the want of continuity unavoidable in printing a very miscellaneous collection as accumulated. Though by no means exhaustive as to the genealogy of any particular family, I think there are few of the name in England whose pedigree will not be to some extent illustrated by these memoranda. In order to assist the reader, I give here a rough list of the contents of these two volumes; if of no other use, it may save trouble to those who are content with making a superficial enquiry as to their pedigree, and who do not take sufficient interest in it to patiently search out every clue by the aid of the indexes. To those who have been kind enough to take an interest in my researches, I again render my thanks for their assistance.

THE MARSHALLS OF SOUTHWARK.

The earliest ancestor of this family given in the 1620 Visitation of Surrey, is Richard Marshall, of Cockwood, [i.e. Coxwold in the North Riding,] in co. York, Gent.[1] His son, Thomas Marshall,[2] was of Stamford, co. Lincoln; he had a son, Richard Marshall, of that town, who married Anne, daughter of Thomas Beckwith,[3] Esq. (and sister of Thomas Beckwith, of Clint, ancestor of the Beckwiths of Alborough, Barts.[4]), by Elizabeth, daughter of ..... Tirrel, of Ockendon, co. Essex, son of Thomas Beckwith, of Clint, co. York, by Matilda, daughter of Henry Pudsey, of Barford, co. Kent.

I have been unable to identify the Stamford Marshalls mentioned in the following extracts with this family, but, I insert them here as they may prove useful for future reference.

From the Register of All Hallowes, Stamford:—

1560. The xxiv of Sept. dynis Whittle servaunte to Richard Marshall was bur.

Richard Marshall and Anne Beckwith had issue two sons, John, of whom presently, and Henry, eldest son, of the Borough of Southwark, called "late brother," in will of his brother John, 1619, married Margaret, dau. of . . . . Courtney, of London, and had issue:—

Henry Marshall, s.p.

William Marshall, of Southwark, 1623. Mentioned in will of John Marshall, 1619.

Alice, s.p.

Jane, married Henry Vero, of Southwark, and had a son, and a daughter Margaret mentioned in the will of John Marshall, of Southwark, 1627.

John Marshall was of the parish of St. Saviour, in the Borough of Southwark, White-baker, and a Citizen and Tallow-chandler of London. He married Elizabeth, daughter of Richard Heecock, of Clifton, co. Chester. On the 21st December, 1611, he had a grant of Arms from William Camden, Argent, a chevron cotised Sable between three bucks'-heads caboshed Gules. CREST. A greyhound sejant Argent, collared Gules, the ring Or, resting his dexter fore paw on a buck's head caboshed Gules. In 1623, he entered his pedigree in the Visitation of Surrey. His will is dated 31 May, 1619. He desires to be buried in the parish of St. Saviour, Southwark, in the night time. Mentions wife Elizabeth Marshall. My daughter, Susanna Thicknes. My four children, Thomas Marshall, John Marshall, Richard Marshall, and Elizabeth Marshall. My nephew, William Marshall. My kinswoman Vero, my late brother Henry Marshall's daughter. My two daughters-in-law, my son John's wife, and my son-in-law Maddox his wife. My two grandchildren, John and Thomas Maddox, sons of my late daughter Mary deceased. My grandchild Elizabeth Thicknes. To my cousin Wright, of Grantham, two years' rent of his house which he payeth me. Loving son-in-law William Maddox, and kinsman Charles Yeoman, scrivenor, overseers. Appoints wife sole executrix. There are several bequests to poor, one to Southwark hospital, and one to the poor of the parish of All Hallowes in Stamford. To trustees for poor of Newington Butts, co. Surrey, a rent charge of 20s. per annum, out of tenements there. After some alteration the will was re-executed 28 Sept., 1619; and was proved by Elizabeth Marshall, the relict, in P.C.C., 10 August, 1625. (83 Clark). They had issue, besides John, George, Edward, Alexander, William, Richard, who all probably died young; and Sarah, Christiana, Judith, Mary, Anne, Elizabeth, Bridget, and Emma, died s.p., making the number of their children twenty in all:—

1. Thomas Marshall, White-baker, Citizen and Tallow-chandler of London, of the parish of St. Sepulchre extra Newgate. Aged 30 at Visitation of 1623. Will dated 20 April, 1625. Wills to be buried in St. Saviour's, Southwark. Gives to parish of St. Sepulchre £100 for clothing boys. Mentions his father John Marshall. Brothers John Marshall and Richard Marshall. Brother Richard Thickins[1] and his wife. Brother William

[1] i.e., Thickness.

Pickton and his wife. To the first child that my sister Pickton shall bear £20. £100 to parish of St. Saviour, Southwark, for clothing boys. My godson Thomas Maddox and John Maddox his brother. Godson Thomas Thickens. Goddaughter Mary Thickins, and her two sisters Susan and Elizabeth Thickins. Gives his right to fishing in Plymouth in New England to his father. Mentions his "dwelling in the Old Baylie." Loving mother £20 to buy her a ring. Appoints his father sole executor. Brother Maddox and his wife. William Powell and his wife. Administration was granted by P.C.C. 10 August, 1625, to Elizabeth Marshall, relict and executrix of the last will of John Marshall while he lived executor of the will of Thomas Marshall late of the parish of St. Sepulchre extra Newgate, but who died in the parish of St. Saviour Southwark, John Marshall having died before he proved the will (83 Clark).

2. John Marshall, of Southwark. Aged 28 in 1623. Married Elizabeth, daughter and coheir of Richard Taylor, of London, M.D. Ment[d] in will of her mother Elizabeth Taylor, proved 24 Feb., 1635-6. The will of Richard Taylor, Dr. of Physic, was proved in P.C.C., 22 Dec., 1615 (117 Rudd). John Marshall died in March, 1631, and was buried in St. Saviour's Church, the last day of that month. He died without issue (Funeral Certificate, Coll. Arms, I. 23, p. 61[b]). His will is dated 21 August, 1627. Give lands, etc., in trust for Margaret daughter of Henry Vero, under age. Mentions the brother of the said Margaret. Leaves money to maintain poor scholars from Southwark, or Stamford, co. Lincoln, at the Universities. Mentions mother Elizabeth Marshall. Wife Elizabeth Marshall. Money in trust to build a church. My sister Elizabeth Browne. My sister Susan Thicknesse, her eldest daughter Elizabeth Thicknesse, her daughter Mary Thicknesse, and her youngest daughter Suzan Thicknesse. My late Father. To be buried at Sutton, co. Surrey, and then to be removed to the new church he leaves money to build. My brothers Mr. Thicknesse, Mr. Browne, and Mr. Maddox. Proved in P.C.C. 15 April, 1631 (38 St. John). This is a very long will, and further particulars will be found in Manning and Bray's "Surrey," iii. 534—540. See his arms, etc., in Christ Church, Surrey, the church he founded, in Aubrey's "Antiquities of Surrey," v. 156.

3. Richard Marshall, living 1625.

1. Mary (deceased in 1619), married William Maddox, Goldsmith, and had two sons, John and Thomas, who are both mentioned in the will of Charles Yeoman, of London, Scrivenor, 1645-6. Proved in P.C.C. (17 Twisse). William Maddox had married a second wife in or before 1619.

2. Susanna, married Richard Thicknesse, and had issue Elizabeth, Thomas, Mary, and Susan.

3. Elizabeth, living unmarried in 1619. Probably married William Pickton, and secondly, ... Browne.

MARSHALL OF SELABY, CO. DURHAM.

Lord Redesdale, the present owner of the Batsford estates in co. Gloucester, acquired them from the family of Freeman,[1] and assumed that name in addition to his own — Mitford. Richard Freeman, of Batsford, Lord Chancellor of Ireland, was twice married; first to Elizabeth, daughter of Sir Anthony Keck, Knt., of an ancient Gloucestershire family, of which it is to be regretted that no good genealogy exists in any printed work (but collections for one will be found in the Genealogist, vol. iii., p. 173); and secondly, to Anne, sole daughter and heir of Richard Marshall, of Selaby, and of Gray's Inn, Esq., of whose family there is a pedigree in Surtees' History of Durham, vol. iv., p. 21. This pedigree, which is based upon one entered in Dugdale's Visitation of Durham in 1666, amplified by deeds and parish register extracts, is both incomplete and inaccurate. The following notes correct some of the errors contained herein.

It begins with Gilbert Marshall of Newcastle-on-Tyne, who married Agnes daughter and coheir of Cuthbert Brakenbury, (see Plantagenet Harrison's History of Yorkshire, i, 268) and had two sons, Richard, of Denton (see Inq. in App. to 44th Report of D.K. Pub. Records, 473), and Thomas Marshall, of Pearce Bridge End, who had two sons, Gilbert of Houghall, aged 45 at Dugdale's Visitation, and Richard. Gilbert married Elizabeth, daughter of Sir John Bourchier (called by Surtees Sir Thomas): see Dugdale's Visitation of Yorkshire, published by the Surtees Society. p. 140. He is said by Surtees to have been "living at Selaby, 1683," but no authority is given for the statement, which is evidently incorrect. Administration of his goods was granted by the Prerogative Court of Canterbury, 5 March, 1680, in which he is described as of Houghall, co. Durham, but deceased in Gray's Inn, co. Middx., to Gilbert Marshall, Esq., his son, Elizabeth Radcliffe alias Marshall, relict of said deceased, and Alexander Radcliffe, her husband, having renounced. So far, therefore, from his having been alive in 1683, his wife had married a second husband before the 5 March, 1680! Administration was also granted by the Prerogative Court of York (Prerogative Act Book, York, for 1679-1705), 8 July, 1684, to Gilbert Marshall, his son, in which he is again described as "of Houghall, co. Durham, but who died at Gray's Inn, co. Middx." This leaves no doubt that the two administrations relate to the same person.

Richard was twice married. His first wife is said by Surtees to have been "Jane, daughter of Thomas Neile, of co. Herts., bur. 20 Feb., 1663, at St. Oswald's." At the time, however, when she married Richard Marshall, she was, I believe, the widow of ..... Cannon, as there is in the Vicar General's Office a licence, dated 25 Feb., 1662-3, for Richard Marshall, of Gray's Inn, Esq., bachelor, aged about 34, and Jane Cannon, of St. Giles', Cripplegate, widow, about 30, to marry at St. Giles', Cripplegate, or St. James', Clerkenwell. The date of burial is no doubt intended for 1663-4. Administration of the goods of Jane Marshall alias Cannon, of the parish of St. Oswald, Durham, was granted to her husband, Richard Marshall, 5 March, 1680. I feel no doubt as to the identity of this person with the Jane of the marriage licence, but am entirely unable to explain the reason why so long a time was allowed to elapse before letters of administration were taken out. Richard Marshall married for his second wife Elizabeth Robinson. Marriage licence in Vicar General's Office, dated 24 April, 1666. He of Gray's Inn, Esq., widower, aged about 38 ; she of All Hallowes, Honey-lane, widow, aged about 36,—to marry at St. Mary Magdalene, Old Fish-street. The marriage took place at that church the same day. By his first wife Richard Marshall apparently had no issue. By Elizabeth Robinson, his second, he was father of Anne, who became the wife of Richard Freeman. Here it is that Mr. Surtees makes his worst and most inexcusable blunder. Anne, wife of Richard Freeman, in Surtees' pedigree of the family, is made to be the daughter of his nephew, also named Richard (who was the third son of his elder brother Gilbert), by Mary, daughter of the Rev. Edmund Fotherby. That this descent is entirely erroneous the subsequent history of the descendants of Gilbert will show. Richard Marshall's will is dated 10 February, 1695-6, and was proved in P.C.C. (Leeds 141), by the said Anne, 23 June, 1713, He is described as of Gray's Inn, co. Middlesex, Esq. Devises lands in Selaby, Gainford, etc., in Co. Pal. Durham, and Harpeden, in the parish of Welhampsteed, co. Hertford, and in Luton, co. Bedford, to daughter Anna Marshall. Mentions "her mother, my dear wife," and her jointure in the Hertfordshire estates. Appoints said daughter sole executrix. When she died in 1726, administration was granted 17 May, 1727, to Richard Freeman, Esq., son of Anne Freeman alias Marshall, widow, deceased, while she lived daughter and executrix of Richard Marshall. Richard Freeman,[1] the husband of Anne, was married to her in 1702. Marriage licence, Faculty Office of Archbishop of Canterbury, 1702, August 12, Richard Freeman, of Battisford, co. Gloucester, widower, and Anne Marshall, spinster, aged 24, daughter of Richard Marshall, Esq., of St. Sepulchre's, Middlesex, to marry at St. Benet's Paul's wharf, or ..... Surtees says that she died 11 January, 1726, aged thirty-one. Another evident mistake! She must have been more, as, if thirty-one was her age at death, she must have been married when only seven ! The licence proves her to have been then twenty-four, and consequently her age at death would be 48. Richard Freeman had issue by her, Ann, died 1728, aged 23, and Richard who administered to his grandfather Richard Marshall, and died s.p. in 1741.

Gilbert Marshall had issue, 1, Gilbert, 2, John, 3, Richard, five other sons, and eight daughters, who all apparently died sans issue, except Margaret the third. Gilbert Marshall, the eldest son, was born in Milk-street, London, and baptised at St. Mary Magdalene, Milk-street (or Knight Rider-street, as now called), 27 January, 1653-4. Surtees states that he was buried 29 December, 1675, but omits to state where, and thus prevents enquiry as to who, if such a person existed, the Gilbert Marshall was who was buried at that date. We have seen that in 1680 and 1684 he was administrator to his father. On July 16, 1672, he had a licence (Vicar General's Office) as Gilbert Marshall, gent., junr., of Gray's Inn, bachelor, aged about 19, to marry, with consent of his father, Gilbert Marshall, Esq., Mrs. Jane Cannon, of St. Andrew's, Holborn, spinster, aged about 22, parents dead, at St. Mary Savoy, St. James' Clerkenwell, or St. Clement Danes. She was probably the daughter of Jane Cannon, the first wife of his uncle Richard; at least a comparison of the dates mentioned, and the fact that her parents were dead point to this conclusion. The date given by Surtees as that of the burial of Gilbert, viz., 29 December, 1675, may have been the date of her burial. He married secondly, Elizabeth ....., and died without issue by either wife. Will as of St. James's, Westminster, Esq., dated 10 April, 1719. Mentions, wife Elizabeth Marshall, grand-nephew Marshall Richardson, my sister Margaret Snowden, my brother Richard Marshall, Esq., and his wife. Houses and lands in Sackville-street and Calverdine-row, near Tunbridge, co. Kent, and in the Minster-yard of York. My other grand nephew Benjamin Marshall, brother of the said Marshall Richardson. Appoints wife executrix, and after her decease Marshall Richardson. She proved in P.C.C., 14 Sept. 1721 (Buckingham, 165). The original will is sealed with "a chevron between three crescents." He was buried in the chancel at Hampton, where there was a monument to him on the floor. (Lysons' Middlesex Parishes, p. 78.) The will of "Elizabeth Marshall, of the parish of St. James's, Westminster, widow and relict of Gilbert Marshall, Esq., deceased," is dated 30 November, 1727. Desires to be buried at Hampton, co. Middx., in same grave with late husband. Whereas upon the marriage of my grand-nephew Marshall Richardson alias Gilbert Marshall with Anne Blew, daughter of James Blew, gent., his now wife, etc. Mentions sale of late husband's house in Minster-yard at York. My husband's grand-nephew Benjamin Richardson. My late husband did some time before his death dispose of his house at Tunbridge, co. Kent. My loving brother and sister Richard Marshall, Esq., and his wife. To Col. James Campbell £20 for mourning. To my nephew Gilbert Richardson and his wife £20 for mourning. To my grand-nephew Marshall Richardson alias Gilbert Marshall's now wife, all my Japan China, etc. To my kinswoman Jane Thrift, wife of Gabriel Thrift, £10 for mourning. Kinswoman Mary Carty, wife of Timothy Carty, £10 for mourning. My cousin Mrs. Catherine Blakiston.[1] To my kinswoman Judith Thomas alias Ager one shilling. Marshall Richardson alias Gilbert Marshall, and Benjamin Richardson, executors. Proved by Marshall Richardson, and power reserved to Benjamin Richardson, 16th December 1727, in P.C.C. (Farrant 302.)

[1] His first wife was Elizabeth dau. of Sir Anthony Keck, Knt. See Rudder's Gloucestershire, Add. and Corr., p. viii. As to her grandson, see p. 265.

Richard, third son of Gilbert Marshall, of Selaby, and brother to the above named Gilbert, was born 14 August, 1659, and was of Selaby and Gray's Inn. He appears to have bought church lands during the Commonwealth from Sir John Wollaston and others appointed by Parliament Commissioners for the sale of them. See Deeds enrolled on the Close Rolls, viz.—1651, Part 59, No. 2; 1649, Part 4, No. 33, and Part 14, No. 17; 1650, Part 23, No. 26, etc.; 1652, Part 30, No. 23, and Part 34, No. 2. He married Mary, daughter of Edmund Fotherby, Vicar of Gainford, 1 March, 1691. She was born in 1665. His will, in which he is described as of the New Lodge in Hampton Court Park, in the county of Middlesex, Esq., is dated 28 March, 1725. No mention is made of any child. He appoints his wife Mary sole executrix; and she proved 2 April, 1728, in P.C.C. (Brook 118.) She survived till 1750, at which time she must have been 85, and was, I have no doubt, the "Mary Marshall of the parish of St. George's, Hanover-square, co. Middlesex," administration of whose effects was granted by the P.C.C., 15 March, 1750, to John Fotherby, nephew by the brother, and one of the next of kin.

[1] The only mention I find of this name in connection with Marshall is the marriage at Gilling, co. York, of Marmaduke Blakestone and Elizabeth Marshall, 15 January, 1705-6.

Margaret, sister of Gilbert and Richard, and daughter of Gilbert Marshall, of Selaby, was born 3 July 1658. Married 1st, 6 Jan., 1679, Richard Richardson; and 2ndly, Tobias Snowdon. On the 4th December, 1728 (the year after the death of Elizabeth, wife of her brother Gilbert,) she (and her then husband Tobias Snowden), as sister and heir of Gilbert Marshall, Esq., released all her equity of redemption in lands at Alwent, a hamlet to the east of Selaby. (Surtees, vol. iv, p. 22). By her first husband, Richard Richardson, she must have been mother of the father of Marshall and Benjamin Richardson, the grand-nephews of Gilbert Marshall, who as, through their mother, his presumptive heirs, were called alias Marshall.

Marshall Richardson alias Gilbert Marshall, married at Chelsea, 14 April, 1726, Anne, daughter of James Blew, and had issue:—Gilbert Marshall, bapt. at Chelsea 5, and buried there 15 Dec., 1726; Mary, bapt. there 21 Dec., 1727; Elizabeth, bapt. there 8 March, 1729-30, and buried 10 May following; and Henrietta, bapt. there 6 June, 1733.

The name "Gilbert" is somewhat uncommon, and with the following exceptions I have not met with it in other families of Marshall.

I. Gilbert Marshall, will dated 2 May, 1708, appoints sister Mary executrix and universal legatee; she proved in P.C.C., 4 June, 1712. (117 Barnes).

II. Gilbert Marshall, of the parish of St. Paul, Shadwell, co. Middx., marriner, will dated 15 August, 1723. Mentions Thomas Beck and Katherine, his wife. Proved in P.C.C. by Thomas Beck, 2 April, 1726. (76 Plymouth).

The notes of Durham wills (post) will throw further light on this pedigree. Mr. C. M. Carlton, of Durham, informs me that in a MS. in the Chapter Library at Durham, Gilbert Marshall is mentioned as being seized in fee of a tenement in Giles-gate, Durham; he had a son Thomas, who had issue John Marshall, only son and heir, died 6 March, 1736 (?). Will proved at York by John Thomas, his executor. Gilbert Marshall had also a daughter Ann, who married William Thomas, and had issue by him :—John Thomas, gent., above mentioned, only son and heir, and devisee of the said Thomas Marshall. From the same source it appears that Edward Marshall, of Darlington, married Margaret Rippon, of Eggleston, 25 Oct., 1581.

THE MARSHALLS' OF EXETER.

During the seventeenth century a respectable family of this name flourished in the city of Exeter, two of whom, John and James, father and son, were Mayors, the former in 1615, and the latter in 1658.[1] The only notice of it in any printed work is a brief pedigree, which appears to have been compiled between 1627 and 1635, in Westcote's Devonshire Families, edited by Geo. Oliver and Pitman Jones, p. 502. It is probable that this family was connected with the Marshalls of Teigngrace, under which place Westcote says (p. 439), "Here also is a tribe of the Marshalls." At p. 502 he gives their arms as, Or, a milrind Sable, with this entry, "John Marshall, one of the four coroners of Devon, married Agnes daughter of Walter Ossingold of East Ogwell, and had issue Thomas, John, and Katherine." The arms, however, recorded to them in the Visitation of Devon, 1572 (Coll. of Arms, MS. G 19, fo. 22^b), are, Or, a milrind Sable, on a chief Gules three antelopes' heads Or. Westcote attributes this coat to the Marshalls of Exeter.

The first of the name mentioned by Westcote is William Marshall, who had issue Robert Marshall, who married Joan, daughter and heir of ..... Owsley of Chillington, co. Somerset. His will, dated 7 August 1576, was proved by her 9 October following in the P.C.C. (Carew 29). He is described as of Ashewill, in the parish of Ilminster, and desires to be buried in the churchyard of Ilminster. Gives to son Edward Marshall "his Rynes and bark and half my Tanne vates with a mill to grind Bark." From this bequest it seems that he was by trade a tanner. Mentions sons, John, Nicholas, William, John "the younger," and Thomas, all under age; and appoints wife Joan sole executrix and residuary legatee. He appears to have had two other children besides those mentioned in his will, Roger and Anne, who may possibly have been twins, born posthumous. I take them, therefore, according to the presumable order of their births :—

1. Edward Marshall, mentioned in the will of his sister Anne, 1616, as then deceased; had a son Nicholas.
2. John Marshall. I suppose this person to be "John Marshall of Chellington, co. Somerset, Tanner," whose will, dated 14 July, 1590, was proved by his relict in P.C.C., 31 July following. (Drury 54). He mentions therein his son Robert Marshall, and youngest son John Marshall both under age. Appoints wife Elizabeth sole executrix, and Nicholas Osborne and Robert Marshall supervisors.
3. Nicholas Marshall, of Ilminster, co. Somerset, shoemaker. Will dated 10 November, 1625. To be buried in the churchyard of [1] Izacke's Antiquities of the City of Exeter, Lond. 1731, 8vo., 3rd ed., pp. 146, 165.

Ilminster. Lands at Coxbridge to son John Marshall.[1] Wife Christian, sole executrix. Son William Marshall. Daughter Agnes Marshall. Daughter Jone, wife of John Ashton. Brothers-in-law Richard Chicke, Robert Webb, and John Chicke, overseers. Son Nicholas Marshall under age. Proved by relict in P.C.C. 18 Feby. 1625-6. (Hele 21). He had also a son Thomas Marshall, who proved the will of his aunt Anne Marshall, 1616.

4. William Marshall, of Dinnington, in the diocese of Bath and Wells, co. Somerset. Will dated 1 Decr. 1623. Gives money to poor of Ilminster. Mentions, brother Nicholas Marshall,—four children of son-in-law John Braggs,—Elizabeth, Susanna, James, John, and Richard, children of my brother John Marshall of Exeter, all under age,—my brother Roger's children, that is his son John, daughter Jane, and daughter Mary, all under age,—Edward the son of my brother Thomas, and Joane and Judoth (under age) his daughters,—Anne, Elizabeth, Margaret, Joane, and Phillip, the daughters of my cozen John Marshall, all under age,—Mary Geare myne apprentice,—John Reinolds my man,—Stenchlie Bennet,—Julian Stucchie my god-daughter,—to my brother Thomas my chattell lease of Chipplecome and Longhills in the parish of Winsham, co. Somerset,—Nicholas son of said Thomas,—gives legacy to said brother Thomas on condition that he makes over his land in West and Middle Chinnock to his (the said Thomas's) son Robert "on his retorne home,"—John son of my brother Thomas,—William Marshall my brother Thomas his son to be executor,—he proved the will in P.C.C. 5 March, 1623. (Byrde 28). Administration was granted 4 April, 1624 to Thomas Marshall, brother of the testator, because William Marshall, the executor, was dead.
5. John Marshall, called the younger in his father's will, Mayor of Exeter in 1615, of whom presently.
6. Thomas Marshall, of Chillington, tanner, devisee of Chippelcombe and Longhills, in the will of his brother William. Will dated 22 August, 1641. Gives house at Chillington to his daughter Agnes Stuckie for life, with remainder to her son Thomas Stuckie,—her other children John, Judith, and Nicholas are all mentioned as under age,—my daughter Joane Weeks, her

[1] I take this John to be the John mentioned in the will of William Marshall, 1623, as his cousin (cousin at this date usually means nephew), who had five daughters, Anne, Elizabeth, Margaret, Joane, and Phillip, all under age. There were four other Johns, as will be seen from the pedigree, who stood in the relation of nephew to this testator, all of whom, so far as can be ascertained, died without issue, or had no issue in the year 1623. His father Nicholas is described in his will as of Ilminster, it is probable that the son also resided at that place. These considerations, coupled with the name of his youngest daughter, vizt. Phillip, lead me to the conclusion that he is identical with "John Marshall of Ilminster, co. Somerset, yeoman. "Will nuncupative, dated 13 April, 1635. He gave all he had to Elizabeth his wife, in the hearing of Katherine Goodland, the wife of Christopher Goodland, and of his (testator's) daughter Phillip Marshall. Administration to relict 26 May 1635." This will is registered in P.C.C. (Sadler 45).

four children Anne, Marshall, Rebecca, and William, all under age,—to my wife Judith Marshall my now dwelling house, etc., in Chillington.—whereas I am to pay unto my son Edward Marshall £100 given to him by his uncle William Marshall deceased, and also £100 which was given him by his brother William Marshall deceased, etc.—appoints cozens Richard Knight, Thomas Marshall, and Robert Marshall, executors. The will was proved by all three in P.C.C. 30 September, 1641. (Evelyn 113.) This testator probably reached an advanced age, as several of his children predeceased him. It will be noticed that, like his father, he had two sons named John. His issue was :—

i. William Marshall, of Chillington, will nuncupative and undated,—William Stuckey son of William Stuckey,—to all my brothers and sisters £100 apiece,—money to poor of Dinnington and Ilminster,—my father Thomas Marshall executor. He proved the will in P.C.C. 10 April 1624. (Byrde 36.)

ii. John Marshall, of Exeter, made his will nuncupative, 24 May, 1622, in which he is described as the younger. The term younger is no doubt used to distinguish him from his uncle John Marshall (Mayor and Alderman) of Exeter, and not from his brother John, who was citizen and fishmonger of London. He bequeathed to each of the children of his uncle John Marshall, Alderman of Exeter, £50; to Grace Challis, £10; to the poor of Chillington, £10; and a like sum to the poor of St. Mary Arches; to his cousin John Marshall, £100; to Mary Wall, £10; residue to his brother Robert Marshall, and appoints him executor. Administration to John Marshall the uncle, 5 July 1623, because Robert Marshall the executor renounced. Administration 3 March, 1628, to Alice Marshall, widow and executrix of John Marshall, senr., deceased, while he lived, administrator of the goods of John Marshall the younger. Administration 17 June, 1631, to James Marshall of the city of Exeter, merchant, because the said Alice was dead. (Swan 72.) This James was eldest son of the alderman.

iii. Nicholas Marshall, "of Chillington, co. Somerset, tanner, one of the sons of Thomas Marshall of Chillington aforesaid." Will dated 14 January, 1627. Gives to his brother John Marshall, citizen and fishmonger, of London, a messuage called Puphills and other lands at West Chinnock, Middle Chinnock, and Puphill, co. Somerset, and lease of Longhill and Chippelcombe, in the parish of Winsham, and appoints him executor. He proved in P.C.C. 27 Octr. 1628. (Barrington 92.)

iv. Robert Marshall.

v. Edward Marshall.

vi. John Marshall of St. Mary le Bowe, citizen and fishmonger, of London. Will dated 1 October, 1630. Appoints wife Anne Marshall sole executrix. Mentions the four children of my sister Anne Stuckey of Chillington, co. Somerset, all under age,—Jeromie Leeche, parson of St. Mary le Bowe, where I now dwell,—my servant Susan Langworthe,—my father in law John Lynne and Mr. William Spurstowe overseers, —wife "now going with child."—Proved in P.C.C. by relict 12 October, 1630. (Scroope 88.)

John Lynne was of Exeter, and entered his pedigree in the Visitation of Devon, 1620. See Harleian Society, vol. vi, p. 176 ; and Genealogist, vol. i, p. 348.

i. Joane married ..... Weeks, and had issue.

ii. Judeth, living in 1623.

iii. Agnes, married William (?) Stuckey of Chillington, and had issue. She is called Anne in the will of her brother John above.

7. Roger Marshall of Aishwell, in the parish of Ilminster, clothier. Will nuncupative, dated 10 April, 1635. Mentions daughters Marie and Joane,—Joane to be executrix. Witnesses, Thomas Marshall and William Marshall. Proved in P.C.C. by said Joane Marshall 10 June, 1635. (Sadler 69.)

Besides the above daughters he had a son John Marshall, who is mentioned in the will of William Marshall, 1623, as then under age. He probably died in his father's lifetime.

1. Ann. Her will, as of the parish of Ilminster, co. Somerset, spinster, is dated 12 December, 1616, and was proved in P.C.C. 14 February, 1616-17 by the executor therein named. (Weldon 11.) She wills to be buried in the churchyard of Ilminster. Mentions brother Roger Marshall and his three children,—Nicholas Marshall, my godson, the son of my brother Edward Marshall, deceased,—Edward Marshall, the son of my brother Thomas Marshall of Chillington,—Jone Ayshton, the daughter of my brother Nicholas Marshall,— my kinsman Thomas Marshall, son of my brother Nicholas Marshall, sole executor and residuary legatee. Christian Marshall is one of the witnesses.

John Marshall, the Alderman, and Mayor of Exeter, probably settled in that city early in life. He married at St. Mary at Arches, 30 August, 1595, Alice, daughter of Richard Beavis[1] (or Bevis) of Exeter. I have the following notes of his will, and that of his wife :—

"John Marshall, Esq., one of the Aldermen of the citty of Exeter. Dated 8 August, 1624. To be buried in St. Mary Arches church. Property to be divided into three equal parts according to the custom of the city of Exeter. First portion to wife, one other portion amongst my two daughters and three sons, vizt., James Marshall, John Marshall, Richard Marshall, Elizabeth Marshall, and Susan Marshall. The other third in the following legacies. To son James

[1] Arms.—Azure three helmets Argent attired (sic) Or.—Alphabetical Register, etc., by Rd. Isacke, p. 22.

Marshall so much as shall with the legacy given him by his cousin John Marshall deceased make up his portion to £300. The like sum to sons John and Richard. The same to make daughter Elizabeth's portion up to £400, and the same to make daughter Susan's up to £350. All these children under age. To my daughter Alice Harris my second best 'guilte bowle.' To my daughter Jane third best gilt bowl. Thomas Milford, Ebott Groot, Agnes Groote, and Mary Wall. Lands in parish of Northtowne called Eastercombe, Westercombe, and Luckerdon. Brother in law Peter Bevis, Esq're. Estate 'of and in the sheafe and Rectory' of Bampton, co. Devon. Proved by Alice Marshall the relict and executrix in P.C.C. 17 September, 1624." (Byrde 74.)

"Alice Marshall of the city of Exeter, widow. Dated 30 December, 1630. To my son and heir apparent James Marshall the manor of Daccombe, in the parish of St. Mary Church, co. Devon. My brother Richard Bevis. My daughter Elizabeth Trowbridge. My daughter Alice Harris. My daughter Jane Golde [i.e. Gould]. My daughter Susanna Marshall, under age. Legacies bequeathed to said Susanna by her cousin John Marshall, and her brother John Marshall. Son Richard Marshall, under age, and legacy left to him by his cousin John Marshall, and mentions death of the said Richard's brother John Marshall. My five grandchildren, Bartholomew Harris, James Golde, John Golde, John Trowbridge, and Elizabeth Trowbridge. To my dear mother M^ris^ Jane Martyn one silver bowl with my coat of arms graved or pounced thereon. My brother Peter Beavis. My sister in law M^ris^ Susanna Beavis.[1] My four nephews, Richard, William, Peter, and Henry Beavis, sons of my brother Peter Beavis. Son James Marshall sole executor. He proved in P.C.C. 24 February, 1630-1." (St. John 23.) Alice Marshall died 7 Jan., 1630. M.I.

John and Alice Marshall had the following children :—

1. John, bapt. 17 June, 1599 ; buried 20 March, 1600.
2. James, bapt. 22 January, 1608 ; of whom presently.
3. John, of the City of Exeter, bapt. 19 July, 1610 ; buried 16 December, 1630. Administration granted by the Archdeaconry Court of Exeter to Alice Marshall his mother and James Marshall, merchant, 18 Dec., 1630. Bond is entered by which Alice Marshall, widow, James Marshall, merchant, Peter Bevis, Esq., and Dudley Copplestone of the City of Exeter, merchant, are bound to Thomas Barrett, clerk, and Wm. Kiste, in £1000.
4. Richard, bap. 15 March, 1612.
5. Richard, bap. 3 Nov. 1613 ; buried 9 June, 1635.

1. Jane, bapt. 29 June, 1598 ; buried 30 May, 1600.
2. Alice, bapt. 29 June, 1600 ; married, 29 June, 1621, George Harris, who was born at Barnstaple, and had issue.
3. Grace, bapt. 6 May, 1602 ; buried 11 January, 1620.
4. Elizabeth, bapt. 24 March, 1602-3 ; married, 26 March, 1627, Thomas Trowbridge of Taunton, and had issue.
5. Jane, bapt. 18 March, 1603-4 ; married, 26 September, 1624,

James Gould[1] of Exeter. (See Prince's Worthies of Devon, new edition, London, 1810, 4to, p. 436; and Visitation of Devon, Harl. Soc., vol. vi, p. 132.)

6. Susanna, married, 30 June 1635, Richard Lant.
7. Anne, bap. 26 March, 1607; buried 14 Nov'r, 1607.

James Marshall, second, but eldest surviving son, was Mayor of Exeter in 1658. Married, 29 May, 1632, Susanna, daughter of ..... Taylour. He was buried 26 January, 1664. The register describes him as some-time Mayor. His monumental inscription is still extant, "Here lyeth the Body of [Jame]s Marshall, Marchent, Mayor of this City, who departed this life y^e^ 20 (?) Jan., 1664." Administration of his effects was granted by the Prerogative Court of Canterbury, 11 February, 1664-5, to Susanna his relict. They had issue:—

1. John Marshall, bapt. 16 April, 1635.
2. James Marshall, bapt. 26 Nov., 1637. Administration granted by P.C.C., in which he is described as "James Marshall senior of the City of Exeter, but at Guinney in parts beyond sea deceased," to John Marshall his brother, 10 May, 1677, James Marshall his son having renounced. Administration de bonis non to James Marshall the son1 6 Oct., 1694.
3. Richard, bapt. 12 April, 1640.
4. Samuel, bapt. 9 July, 1648.[2]
5. Joseph, bapt. 31 March, 1650.

1. Elizabeth, bapt. 29 May, 1642; buried 13 October following.
2. Sarah, buried 20 July, 1656.

The persons mentioned in the following extracts from the register of burials at St. Mary Arches were no doubt connected, but I am unable to say how. "1678. April 8. Mrs. Sarah Marshall." "1697. Dec. 5. Mrs. Ann Marshall."

The earliest entry of the name, and the only one which has not been already mentioned, in the register of St. Mary Arches, is the marriage of "Thomas Marshall and Eleanor Trubodye," which took place 16 January, 1544. The only other Eleanor Marshall I have met with belonging to Exeter made her will 4 October, 1607, as of Crediton, in the co. of Devon, widow. She mentions her daughters Agnes Coleman, Grace Woode, and Mary Dennys and her children Thomas Dennys and Ellinor. Thomas Dennys my son in law. Appoints John Tuckfield of Crediton, gent., and Nicholas Ware of the same parish, yeoman, executors. Both proved the will 7 May, 1608, in P.C.C. (Windebank 44).

[1] There was at a later date another match between a Marshall and one of the Exeter Goulds. Sarah, born in 1697, daughter of George Gould of Exeter, by Elizabeth his wife, married ..... Marshall of Exeter. George Gould was of the city of Exeter, mercer; will dated 22 Octr. 1694, and codicil 16 June, 1702. Proved in P.C.C. 7 August, 1702 (Herne 131). In the codicil there is a bequest of 40*s.* to "the nurse of my daughter Sarah deceased," but no other mention of her is made.

[2] Perhaps identical with "Samuel Marshall of Fremington, co. Devon, clerk.' Will nuncupative, dated 14 July, 1681. "His whole study of bookes and all whatsoever he had he gave to Mrs. Susanna Marshall his deare mother." Witnesses, Mrs. Mary Berry, Mrs. Sedwill Kimpland, Mrs. Penelope Kimpland. Admon. to Susanna Marshall his mother 25 July 1681, in Principal Registry of Exeter. Inventory £173 5*s.*

MARSHALL OF URSWICK, HADHAM, BLEWBURY, BOSBURY, ETC.

This family appears to have been resident at Urswick in the time of Henry VIII., if not earlier, and members of it, or at all events persons of the same surname, have resided in that parish in comparatively recent times. A pedigree in a MS. of Vincent's in the College of Arms (No. 122, fo. 132), traces a descent from the Marshalls of Pickering, co. York, but varies so much from the authentic accounts of that family, besides assigning entirely different arms, that it appears if not fictitious, at all events doubtful. The arms of the Pickering Marshalls, were, Barry of six Argent and Sable, a canton Ermine, quartering, Bruse, Hawyke, and Browne. This, so-called, branch of that house never appears to have pretended to this coat, which affords prima facie evidence that it was not part or parcel of it. I shall not therefore give the earlier part of Vincent's pedigree, but commence with William Marshall of Carlton, co. Nottingham, who he asserts to have been the father of Thomas Marshall of Steventon, co. Lincoln. There is a copy of Vincent's pedigree in Harleian MS., 6147, signed "Will'm Marshall." The coat assigned by Vincent is, Gules, on a fess Argent between three mascles Or as many lions' heads erased Azure. The portions of the following pedigree derived from the Visitation of Berkshire, 1623, will be found in Add. MS. (British Museum) 4961, fo. 58 ; the arms there given are, Or, two bars gemelles Sable, in chief a chess rook between two mullets of the second. Harleian MS. 1441 states that this coat was granted by Bysshe, 14 Decr., 1647, to John Marshall of London Vintner, one of the Common Councilmen. See also Harl. MS. 1532, fo. 111 ; and Add. MS. 14283, fo. 66.

Nicholas Marshall was inducted Vicar of Urswick, 2 Feby. 1620. He was still Vicar in 1650 when the Church Survey was taken. The jurors then returned, "That y^e^ Viccar Officiating y^e^ Cure of y^e^ Church is Mr. Nicholas Marshall, both Viccar of y^e^ Church and Maister of a ffree School, but that he is scandelous in life & negligent in both his callings.[1] Numerous extracts from the Registers of Urswick will be found in "Local Gleanings, relating to Lancashire and Cheshire," edited by J. P. Earwaker, Vol. ii, pp. 239, 249. The only notes I have from wills are the following.

Will of William Marshall now living in Nagg's Head Court between Gracechurch Street and St. Clement's Lane in the parish of St. Clement's Eastchip, dated 2 March, 1676. To be buried in Deptford churchyard where I buried my mother, my father having been buried there before, and where if it might have stood with her liking I would have buried my deceased wife. Makes "my vertuous trusty diligent and careful servant Anne Marshall daughter of Thomas Marshall of Stainton in the parish of Urswick, co. Lancaster," sole executrix and universal legatee. She proved in P.C.C. 17 Decr., 1683. (Drax 142.)

[1] Record Society's Publications, vol. i, p. 138.

Administration of the goods of Thomas Marshall of Urswick was granted 8 February, 1711. (Richmond Wills, Furness Deanery).

John Marshall of Stainton in the parish of Vrswicke, yeoman, made his will 20 March, 1646. Gives to grandchild Thomas Marshall my tenement of Skaitbreake within Osmotherly, also all my part of the tythe of Stainton and Adgarley. Household goods to said grandson reserving to my son William Marshall the use during his life. Jennett Marshall my grandchild. The three sons of my son Thomas Marshall 15s. equally amongst them. My grandchild Marg. Fox. Anne, Isabell, and Frances Marshall, daughters of my son William Marshall. Sons William Marshall and John Marshall executors. John Richardson and William Ashburner supervisors. No date of probate appears. (Richmond Wills, Furness Deanery).

It will be seen that this family was connected with Stoke-Lacy, co. Hereford. The will of John Marshall, the elder, of that place, yeoman, dated 3 October, 1649, was proved in P.C.C. by Jane Marshall, his widow and relict, 11 February 1649-50. He mentions his daughters, Elenor, Susanna, Anne, Isabell, and Jane. Grandchild Elizabeth Pitt. Appoints wife residuary legatee and executrix. Witnesses, James Rawlins, John Marshall, and Martha Marshall. (Pembroke 25.)

The maintenance of the said school and schollarshipps to be taken out of the moiety of the manor of Brantingthorp, co. Leicester which I lately purchased in the said Christopher's name to the use aforesaid. The said schollarships to be for Lancashire, Cumberland, Hertfordshire, and Essex. Lease of Castlecamps co. Cambridge to nephew Christopher to pay to said brother Christopher £20 a year during the lease. Mentions "the patent of the office" of brother Christopher, which it appears had been pledged to testator as security for a debt. My brother Kinge. George Mershall my servant. Thomas Pygott, Anne Finche, Henry Strong, Thomas Lanye, W^{m} Newmarche, and Edmund Hungate. Mr. Webbe. Frequent mention is made of the then Archbishop of Canterbury, and legacies given to all his household. To John Mershall, saddler of London, and his wife 40^{s} each. Margaret Kinge my wife's sister. To my sister Christopher Mershalls wife £20 toward bringing up of my brother Thomas Mershall's daughter. Lease of Manor of Scrowby, co. Nott^{m}, to John Scott of Lambith, Esq^{r}, and Anthony Nichols, Gent. Witnesses—John Bullock, John Scott, Will^{m} Webb, Thomas Ballarde, Peter Morten, and Will^{m} Woodhall.

[2] Will as of Much Haddam, co. Hertford, Gent., lying sicke at Watlington, co. Oxford. Nuncupative. "One Rose Hoptro the same day did come to visite him who lyinge vppon his bed in his accustomed apparell she saide vnto him theise wordes or like in effect, viz. M^{r} Marshall remember yourselfe and make your Will, etc." He then mentioned his sister Elizabeth Marshall and gave her £200. To sister Mary Quartermaine £200,—"and with that gave a great gaspe and dep'ted this life," being present Rose Hoptro, Thomas Quartermaine, Margery Benson, and Jerome Quartermaine.

[3] In his will he desires to be buried in the parish church of Blewbery; and devises to loving friends James Hallywell of Blewberry, Gent., and to my cosen Fraunces Slade of Wantinge, co. Berks, clerk, his manor of Kenwicke in parish of Tilney in Marshland, co. Norfolk, and also manor called Howchins alias Fowchinges in parish of Feeringe, co. Essex, to hold said manor of Kenwicke for 15 years, and manor of Howchins for 30 years, first to pay off mortgage on them, and then to raise 200 marks for a portion for my daughter Margery Marshall. Bequeaths to Henry Marshall, Gent., my cousin german, annuity of £30 after decease of Dorothy Winston my sister-in-law, or after decease of Margery my now wife, which shall first happen. To the four daughters of Dorothy Winston, my neices Dorothy, Anne, Elizabeth, and Catherine, £20 apiece. To my aunt Staunton's children 40s. apiece. To my aunt Bradford's children 40s apiece. My aunt Elianor Marshall. Aunt Bradford's son Thomas Bradford. As touching the fee simple of the manors hereinbefore devised for term of years to my executors, and which were by William Marshall, Esq., my great uncle deceased, by his last will given to Christopher Marshall, Esq., my father deceased and his heirs with divers other remainders over in tail,—recites that testator was heir male of his great uncle and that he has no issue male, and has suffered a recovery to bar entail,—devise to right heirs males of his great uncle William Marshall, but if they interfere with executors in the execution of the trusts before recited,—then I devise the said manor to the right heirs of my brother Edmond Marshall, Esq., deceased, for ever. To Margery my wife household goods at Old Windsor but not elsewhere. My uncle Gregory Slade and kinsman William Bridges overseers. Published 26 March, 1632. CODICIL, dated 27 March, 1632, whereas there is a legacy of £10 in my late testament to my well-beloved aunt Mary Bradford, of Aston, co. Berks, and she being since deceased, test[r] gives said legacy to his servant Henry Hulles. CODICIL, dated 3 July, 1632; mentions kinswoman Mrs. Anne Bridges wife of William Bridges, Gent., and afterwards calls him his 'cousin.' Test[r] mentions his trunk at William Bridges' house. Proved by sentence of Court by James Hallywell one of the executors, 14 May, 1633.

[4] In his will he devises his lands in Blubery and Bosbery to wife Dorothie to educate children till age of 18, and then portions to be raised for them at discretion of my brother M[r] Francys Goddard, Esq[r], my brother William Marshall, gent., and Giles Winston, gent., and Mr. Hughe Keate my beloved friend.

WILLS OF BEDFORDSHIRE MARSHALLS IN P.C.C.

The oldest will of a Bedfordshire Marshall I have met with is that of William Marchall "dwelling wt'in the place of the blacke freres of Dunstaple in the Countie of Bedfford, gentilman," dated 8 July 1531. He bequeaths to the mother church of Lincoln 4d., and to parish church of Todington 20s. Mentions, his late wife Alice, his father John, and mother Joan. His daughters Dorathe and Margaret. Mary, Jane, and Alice, daughters of his son Richard Marchall. Devises farms at Chalton, &c., to son William Marchall. Mentions, daughter Elizabeth Brockas, her late husband John Brockas, Esq., and their children Mary Brockas and Robert Brockas. Gives residue to wife Mary, and appoints her, and son William Marchall executors. My good lady of Wilshere to be overseer. Proved by relict 6 February, 1531 (13 Thower, vol. i.) A pedigree of Brockas will be found in Berry's Hampshire Genealogies, p. 91. "My good lady of Wilshere" was Elizabeth daughter of Thomas Howard, Duke of Norfolk, and wife of Sir Thomas Boleyne, K.G., Earl of Wiltshire.

William Marshall devisee of the farms at Chalton may be identical with "William Marshall of Hitchen, co. Hertford, yeoman," at which place a numerous family of the name appear to have resided. His will is dated 15 May, 1573, and was proved by Annys his relict and sole executrix, 3 June following. (Peter 20.) He mentions his daughter Johan, under age. Devises tenement in Chalton in parish of Ipolits, to Edward Laurence the son of William Laurence late of Gosemor my brother deceased. Also mentions, the children of John Draper late of Chalton which he had by my sister; the four children of William Laurence late of Gosemer deceased, viz., William Laurence, Annys Laurence, Margaret Laurence, and John Laurence; Johan Braye and Kirchin Braye the daughters of Thomas Braye which he had by Johan his wife my sister.

William Marshall, the elder, of Hippolets, co. Hertford, yeoman, apparently a member of this family, made his will 23 December, 1624. He names, son and heir William Marshall, executor; 2nd son Robert Marshall; 3rd son Christopher Marshall; 4th son John Marshall; 5th son James Marshall; daughter Grace Marshall; Alice my wife. To Mr. Marshall minister of the parish of Hippoletts 10s. Codicil dated 26 December, 1624. Proved by within named executor, 24 February, 1624. (Clark 20.)

James Marshall fifth son of this testator was a citizen and Merchant Taylor of London. In his will dated 19 August, 1625, and proved by Jane Marshall his relict and executrix 10 November, 1626, (Hele 126) he mentions his late father William Marshall of Ippoletts in co. Hertford, yeoman; brother William Marshall of Ippoletts aforesaid; son William Marshall; two daughters Rebecca and Sara Marshall; brothers John Marshall, and Christopher Marshall.

Robert Marshall, perhaps the brother of this testator, had a daughter Elizabeth, wife, first of Ralph Radcliffe of Hitchin, and secondly of Thomas Norton. Her arms were: Gules on a fess Argent between three mascles Or as many lions' heads erased Azure. See Cussan's Herts., Parts vii and viii, p. 66; Le Neve's Knights, p. 214; Berry's Kent Genealogies, p. 130; Herald and Genealogist, iii, 277; and Genealogist, v, 125.

Edward Marshall of Hitchin, another of this family made his will 19 May, 35 Elizabeth. He mentions his sons Thomas Marshall, and John Marshall, both under age; his wife Alice; daughter Alice, wife of William Abbot my son-in-law, their children William, Thomas, Abraham, Marye Abbott, and Joane Abbott, who are legatees of 40s. each; daughter Elizabeth Marshall; daughter Joane; and appoints son Edward Marshall sole executor. He proved 29 May, 1593. (Nevell 41.)

My next note of a Bedfordshire Marshall is the will of "William Marshall parson of Marston, co. Bedford," dated 16 February, 1558. To be buried in the chancel of the Assumption of our blessed Lady Marston nigh unto my mother's grave. To my niece Beatrix Frevell a cup of silver double gilt. Haselden Bury my nephew, and James Hutton his father-in-law. Devises his house at Royston, co. Cambridge, to his sister Jane Haselden. Nieces Elizabeth and Beatryce (Haselden?). Cosen Edward Chambers. Samuel Peto and Elizabeth his wife. William Peto. Maude Marshall, widow. Francis Marshall and Dorothy his sister. Robert Frevell, gentleman, is one of the witnesses. Proved 9 March, 1559 (Mellershe 20).

William Marshall of Royston, the first of whom I have found any notice as connected with that place, made his will 8 February, 1506. He desires to be buried in the church of SS. John Baptist and Thomas Martyr of Royston before the altar of the Blessed Mary of Piety. Devises to wife Elizabeth tenement called "Marshall at the well" in the town of Royston till son William is of age, remainder to daughter Johanna. Mentions Agnes my wife's sister. Appoints Christopher Grene, Robert Marshall my brother, and Robert Hall of Royston executors. Witnesses:—Thomas Taverner my confessor, John Sutton of Mylrede, and James Rogerson of Royston. Proved at Lambeth by Robert Marshall, 26 November, 1507 (Adeane 29.)

I find no further mention of Bedfordshire Marshalls till a much later date than this. Mr. Robert Marshall appears to have been minister of St. Peter de Merton, Bedford, from 1647-1660, during which period several of his children were baptised there, viz.:—William, 24 December, 1648; Margaret, 7 April, 1650 (buried 18 May following); John, 22 April, 1651; An, 30 April, 1654; Robert, 25 March, 1656; Elizabeth, 9 November, 1657; and a child of his still-born was buried 20 April, 1660.

James Marshall of Harpenden, in co. Hertford, yeoman, in his will dated 30 December, 1719, devises his lands at Luton, co. Bedford, and lands at Harpenden to wife Anna for life, she to pay my brother Phillip Marshall £16 a year for his life; the said annuity to be paid after decease of said Phillip Marshall to my cousin Phillip Marshall son of my brother Phillip Marshall for his life. Lands before mentioned to cousin Phillip Marshall after decease of my wife, remainder to his children if he have any. Devises lands to churchwardens and overseers of Wheathampstead and Harpenden to put out poor men's children apprentices. Wife Anna sole executrix. Mr. Thomas Marson, junr., of Luton, grocer, and Hugh Smith of St. Albans, Malster, to assist executrix. Proved by Relict, 10 July, 1722. (Marlborough 142.)

William Marshall of Hitchin, Herts, and Mary Harvy of St. Giles Cripplegate, were married at St. Mary Aldermanbury, 18 November, 1714.

The Marshalls of Ippolits appear to have remained at that place till a later period than that previously mentioned. Nicholas Marshall of the parish of St. Pulcker's, London, in his will, undated, desires to be buried in Ippollits churchyard at south side of Chancel. Mentions his wife Saray. Appoints John Doe trustee. Mentions also, my daughter Ann now wife to John Stevens; my son Josiah Marshall, and his children; granddaughter Mary Marshall daughter to my son Mathew; my grandchildren, sons and daughters of Danill Gootteridge, who is mentioned as deceased as also his wife; William Marshall my grandson son of my son Christopher (dead but his wife living); grandson William Marshall son of William Marshall executor. December 9, 1737, appeared William Marshall, senior, of the parish of St. Mary Whitechapell in the co. of Middlesex, gentleman, and Ann Steventon wife of Thomas Steventon of the parish of St. Sepulchre, London, and swore that the will was in handwriting of testator who died 2 December. December 10, 1737, appeared John Wilmer of the parish of St. Andrew, Undershaft, merchant, and deposed that he knew Nicholas Marshall late of the parish of St. Sepulchre, but in the Fleet prison, London, deceased, and swore to the interlineations in the will. This will was proved by William Marshall the younger, the sole executor, 12 December, 1737. (Wake 280.)

NOTES ON LANCASHIRE MARSHALLS.

A considerable family of the name was resident at, and in the neighbourhood of Cartmel during the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries. The following inscriptions are from monuments in Cartmel Church :—

Here lyes y^e^ Body of Mr. John Marshall late of Aynsom, who died the 5^th^ day of October, 1729, in the 75th year of his age.

Here lyes y^e^ Body of Mr. Henry Marshall late of Aynsom, who died the 9th day of Ianvary, 1736, in the 42^d^ yeare of his age.

Katharine Marshall, buried the 22 Day of Ivne, 1714.

Here lyes y^e^ body of Mr. Edward Marshall son of Mr. John Marshall of Aynsom, who died the 22^n^ day of December, 1728, in the 38^th^ year of his age.

Here lyes y^e^ Body of Margaret Marshall relict of Mr. John Marshall of Aynsome, who died the 23^rd^ day of February, 1735, in the 75^th^ year of her age.

The following inscription is on a brass chandelier in the church :—

The gift of Margaret the relict of Mr. John Marshall, late of Aynsome, to the Parish Church of Cartmel. Anno Domini 1734.

This is accompanied by the following extraordinary coat of arms, on a lozenge :—Quarterly, 1. Per pale Or and Vert, a lion rampant Gules. 2 and 3. Argent, two bars Gules, a canton Ermine. 4. Or (?) three chevrons (Gules or Sable?) ; a label of five points over all. Impaling: Ermine, a chevron Sable. The first quarter is the coat of the Marshals, Earls of Pembroke, a coat the right to use which ceased except as a quartering to the descendants of their coheirs on the extinction of that earldom. The second and third quarters are evidently intended for the coat of the Yorkshire Marshalls. The fourth the coat of De Clare, quartered by the children of William Marshall, Earl of Pembroke, in right of his marriage with Isabel de Clare, daughter and heir of Richard, Earl of Pembroke, the celebrated Strongbow. Anyone conversant with ancient heraldic bearings will see at once that whoever bore this coat must have been one of the most impertinent of pretenders, indeed it is, with one exception, the only instance I have met with of its usurpation. That instance is the pretence to bear it of one William Marshall of Newton Kyme, co. York, a militia colonel, whose daughter and heir married Randal Gossip, who assumed the name of Hatfield. William Marshall was descended of a respectable family of yeomen, long resident at Tadcaster, and certainly not entitled to this coat, nor so far as can be ascertained to any coat at all.

I have taken some trouble to find out who the Aynsom Marshalls really were, and some of the "Richmond Wills" now at Somerset House, lead me to believe that they were a yeoman family, pretty numerous in that district, with no pretence to coat armour, till the benefactress of the parish chandelier adopted by its gift an easy and not very expensive method of asserting their nobility, and thus perpetuated a fraudulent coat of arms for the benefit of her posterity.

The Deaneries, the wills from which were proved in the Consistory Court at Richmond, situate in the county of Lancaster, are Furness, Amounderness, and Lonsdale.

[1] This is a very well preserved document. At the end of the list of persons charged in Chesterfield parish is this note, "There are 113 p'sons in the p'ish of Chesterfield w[ch] doe receive constant Almes of p'ish & therefore omitted." In most other rolls of Hearth money it is usual to mention certain persons as "not chargeable."

July 31. Mareschall not coming, Bailiff to seize lands &c. and Demandants to be at next Court.
Sept. 11. The Demandants' case is :—
William son of Wm. Wylymot was seized of the said lands and ten'ts in fee temp. Edw. 3, and died without issue ; and the right ascended to Emmota wife of Robert Ingleys, and to Eleanor her sister, as aunts and heirs of said Wm., and sisters of his father. From Emmota the right descended to Isabel, who now demands with John Newton her husband, as daughter and heir of Emmota. From Eleanor the right descended to William Halyday, her son and heir. And they say that the said John son of Roger entered into the said lands &c. by Roger Mareschall of Qwixlay, who disseised the said Wm. (son of Wm.) Wylimot whose heir the said Isabel and Wm. Halyday are.
John son of Roger M. says that the descent from the said Emmota is to Isabel alone and not jointly with John Newton her husband.
Court adjourned to 3 weeks after, at which day the tenant comes in person and says that Roger Mareschall his father took an assise of fresh force against Wm. son of Wm. Wilimot, John Frere, and others, by which assise it was found that they disseised the said Roger Mareschall, and this is of record. The demandants deny the existence of any such record. A day is given to show record in 3 weeks.
Then the tenant says that demandants ought not to have their action because in 41 Edw. 3. Roger de Wixlay father of the said John (Mareschall) whose heir he is arraigned in an assise of fresh force in the Court of Knar : against Wm. Willymot (ancestor of the demandants) of the said tenements by the name of tenements in Ledehous and elsewhere, which places are hamlets and parcels of towns now put in the writ[1]. The said ten'ts were put in view and process

VOLUME II. PART II.

THE MARSHALLS OF PEEBLES.[1]

James Marshall, born in or before 1650, was a Burgess and Merchant of Peebles. He became possessed of three sumes of Cademuir Hill in 1708. He had at least two sons, Robert, born 1673, and John, who appears to have been baptised on 9th September, 1677. Robert Marshall was baptised 24th November, 1673. He is afterwards described in the Parish Registers as a "dweller in Ormiston," which looks as if he had been a farmer. His son James Marshall was baptised 5th October, 1703. In 1731 he was admitted a Burgess and Guildbrother of Peebles, and was for a number of years one of the Bailies of that burgh. When the Highlanders were encamped at Peebles, in 1745, he was Dean of Guild, and went boldly to the Cross of Peebles, where he drank "Confusion to the Pretender." His Will is dated and signed at Peebles, 20th April, 1771, and he died 27th May following, and was buried in St. Andrew's Kirk Yard, Peebles. He married, first a Miss Scott, by whom he had a son, Robert, born 1736; and secondly in 1746, Janet, daughter of William Tait, late tenent in Feathen, Traquair. Their issue was:—

William, born 1747; died young.
James, born 1749; of whom presently.
Margaret, born 1750; died young.
Jean, born 1752; alive 1771.
William, born 1754, Minister of Manor; of whom hereafter.
Alex^{r}, born 1758, Banker in London; of whom hereafter.
Margaret, born 1762; died unmarried.
Isobell, born about 1756; married Archibald Robertson.
Janet, died unmarried.

Robert Marshall, the only child of James Marshall by his first marriage, was baptised 22nd February, 1736, and was made a Burgess of Peebles, "free of all Composition or fees" on account of his father in 1754. He was several years Dean of Guild, and died unmarried.

James Marshall, the eldest surviving son of the second marriage was baptised 8th March, 1749, and was a Burgess, Merchant, and many years Bailie of Peebles. Upon the 10th September, 1779, he married Margaret Ballantine, daughter of James Ballantine, of Hollylee. He died 22nd May, 1837, and was buried beside his father in St. Andrew's Kirk Yard. He had issue:—

[1] For this pedigree I am indebted to Captain Robert Seton Marshall.

Isobell, born 1780; married the Rev[d] Thomas Leckie.
Jean, born 1781; died unmarried 1854.
Marion, born 1782; died unmarried 1857.
James, born 1784; died 1850; of whom hereafter.
Janet, born 1786; died 1789.
Robert, born 1788; died 1845; of whom hereafter.
Margaret, born 1790; died unmarried, 1850.
Janet, born 1792; died unmarried 1851.

William Marshall (Minister of Manor) was born in Peebles, 2nd August, 1754, and educated at Peebles Parish School, the Edinburgh High School, and Edinburgh University, where he distinguished himself as a scholar, and in 1788 was presented to the parish of Manor, Peeblesshire, by William, Duke of Queensberry. He was first married at Edinburgh, 30th April, 1790, to Christian, daughter of Mr. William Vair, and by her had one child, who died young. She died 21st September, 1794, aged 21 years, and was buried in Manor Church Yard. He married secondly, at Peebles, 16th November, 1803, Christian Smith (only child of Archibald Smith, Merchant in Peebles, and Elizabeth Govan), by whom he had ten children, viz. :—

Elizabeth, born 1804; married, 1st, Mr. John Anderson, Castlehill; 2nd, Mr. Thomas Thorburn.
James, born 1806; buried at Manor, 1812.
William Forbes, born 1808; died at London, unmarried, 2nd December, 1866.
Janet, born 1809; died unmarried, 1826.
Christian, born 1810; buried at Manor, 1811.
Archibald, born 1812; of whom presently.
Isabella, born 1814; married Mr. John Thorburn, and died 1840.
Agnes, born 1816; died unmarried, and buried at Manor, 1836.
Jane, born 1818; married Mr. John Anderson, and died 1880.
Margaret Christian, born 1824; married Mr. John Hewat, and died 1886.

About 1828 he gave up the ministry, and went to live at St. John's Hill, Edinburgh, where he died, 22nd April, 1830, in the 76th year of his age, and 42nd of his ministry.

Alexander Marshall, born 1758, was made a Burgess of Peebles, 1778, free of all charge, on account of his father and brothers. He was for sometime in Sir William Forbes' Bank, Edinburgh, and afterwards in Hankey's Bank, London. He died before March, 1827.

James Marshall, son of James Marshall and Margaret Ballantine, born 1784, was a Wine Merchant in Edinburgh.

He married Margaret Allen, and died 1st May, 1850, having had issue:—

James, born 1816, a Wine Merchant in Edinburgh, and for many years one of the Bailies, married Jenetta, daughter of Mr. Currie, of Glassmount, and died 1880, leaving issue:—

Elizabeth, born 1851.
James, born 1852; went to Manitoba.
Andrew, born 1854; Banker, Hong Kong.
Allan, born 1856; went to Manitoba.
Janetta, born 1858.
Frank, born 1859; Lieutenant, 25th Regt.
Robert, born 1863; Lieutenant, Duke of Wellington's West Riding Regt.
Isabella, born 1866.

Isabella, born 1817; married William Christie, and died 1881.

Francis, born 1820, a Wine Merchant in partnership with his father; died unmarried 1849.

Robert Marshall, brother of the above, born 1788, was a Commission Agent in Edinburgh, and married the widow of a Newcastle Merchant, named Sewell, and dying in 1845, left issue, James, who went to Australia.

Archibald Marshall, son of Mr. William Marshall and Christian his wife, born 1812, is a Justice of the Peace for the County of the City of Edinburgh, Commissioner of Supply for the County of Peebles, &c., was a Merchant in Edinburgh, but inheriting property through his mother, was enabled to retire from business early in life. He married, first, Margaret Anderson, daughter of Walter Anderson, Cramilt; secondly, Rosina Seton Veitch, only child of John Veitch, H.M. Excise, Somerset House. By his first wife he has issue:—

William, born 1850; died 1870.
Walter, born 1851; Bank of Scotland.
James, born 1853; died 1869.
Elizabeth Govan, born 1854; died 1856.
Oliver, born 1856; went to Manitoba.

By his second wife:—

Rose Seton, born 1861; died 1862.
John Archibald, born 1862; Accountant, Audit Department of the Eastern Bengal Railway, Calcutta.
Robert Seton, born 1864; Captain 3rd Brigade Scottish Division Royal Artillery (Edinburgh Militia).
Edward Govan, born 1866; Bank of Scotland.
Christian Eliza, born 1868.
Charles James, born 1870.
Margaret Seton, born and died 1872.

"M[r] William Layng Vicar of Colbie, buried, Sept[r] 26, 1614."—Coleby Register. He must have been succeeded by Thomas Allen, who is first mentioned in Coleby Register at the burial of a servant of his in 1616. The following entries in Coleby Register relate to him and his wife:—

Winifred Allen the wife of Thomas Allen, Vicar of Colebie, was buried the 10th day of March, 1643. M[r] Thomas Allen Vicar of Colbie buried the xviij day of August, 1644.

Will of Thomas Allen of Colebie in the co. of Lincolne, Clark. Dated 27 June, 1644. To be buried in the Quiere under the blew stone neere to my wife. My sister Richardson and her four daughters. My land to William Allen my kinsman. John Allen my brother and his children. Makes said brother and his son William executors. Administration with will annexed to John Allen of Knighton, co. Leicester, brother of testator, in Consistory Court at Lincoln. (Vol. for 1643-4.) The testator omitted to sign the will, hence the administration.

3 Chancery Proceedings before 1714, "Whittington," Bundle 467. Marshall v. Munday. Bill of Complaint, exhibited, "17° die Maij 1650." "Humbly Complaineing sheweth vnto yor Lordshippes yor daylie Oratrs Gervas Marshall of Whatton in ye Countie of Nottingham Clarke and Elizabeth his wife daughter and heire of Wiłłm Munday of Bellowe Parke in ye Contie of Nottingham yeoman deceased and Administratrix of ye goods and Chattles of Margrat Munday deceased yor Oratrixes sister late ye wife of [blank] Dauson alsoe deceased That whereas Anne Munday late of Bellowe parke aforesaid widd was in her life tyme possessed of a greate psonall estate to ye value of fiue hundred pounds at ye least and being thereof soe possessed she the said Anne Munday did make her last will and Testamt in writing and thereby amongst other things did giue as followeth vizt That whereas by one deede or writinge by her formerly made she hadd giuen vnto Wiłłm Munday ye sonne of Wiłłm Munday of Bellowe Parke aforesaid ye sume of fortye pounds of good and lawfull monie of England her will then was that Twentie pounds thereof should be and remaine vnto her God daughter Anne Munday in ye said will before named and ye other Twentye pounds thereof should be and remaine vnto Margrat Munday and yor Oratr Elizabeth by the name of Margarett Munday and Elizabeth Munday sisters of ye said Wiłłm Munday deceased equally to be diuided betwixt them and of her said will she ye said Anne Munday widd did make ye said Wiłłm Munday of Bellowe parke aforesaid her sole Executor and shortly after That is to say in or about ye yeare of our Lord One Thousand six hundred Twentie and fiue ye said Anne Munday of Bellowe parke aforesaid widd dyed possessed of ye said great psonall estate by and after whose decease ye said Wiłłm Munday pued ye said will and tooke vppon him ye execucon thereof and possessed himselfe of ye said psonall estate And also receiued and possessed himselfe of ye said fortie pounds appointed to be raised by ye said deede and shortly after he ye said Wiłłm Munday did marrie and take to wife Judith But neu ye lesse ye said Wiłłm Munday did not paie vnto yor Oratrix Elizabeth and her said sister Margrat nor to eyther of them ye said Twentie pounds nor anie pte thereof but did alledge yt yor Oratrix Elizabeth and her said sister Margrat being then wthin age could not giue vnto him ye said Wiłłm Munday a sufficient dischardge thereof And ye said Wiłłm Munday ye Executor being likewise seised in his demesne as of ffee of and in dius Messuages Lands Tenemts and Hereditamts in Lenton Edenstowe and Kersall in ye said Countie of Nottingham and in other lands in ye Countie of ye Towne of Nottingham And being alsoe possessed of all or ye most pte of ye said psonall estate left vnto him by ye said Anne Munday widd and haueing in his hands and Custodie ye writings Euedences Escripts and minnemts touchinge and concerninge ye said lands he ye said Wiłłm Munday did make his last will and Testamt and thereof did make and ordeyne ye said Judith his wife his sole Executrix and about [blank] yeares sithence dyed possessed of ye most pte of ye said psonall estate left vnto him by ye said Anne Munday and of a good psonall estate of his owne And also dyed seised in his demesne as of ffee of and in ye said lands and prmisses in Lenton Edenstowe and Kersall in ye said Countie of Nott and in ye said Countie of ye Towne of Nottingha leaueing yor Oratrix Elizabeth his sole daughter and heire." (Judith, the widow, having a (life?) interest would not pay. Margaret, the sister, had died intestate, and without issue.)

4 In the original Visitation, this note of the authority on which the arms were allowed is given: "For proofe of coat Mr Marshall shewed me part of a pedigree in a parchment Roll signed by R. Chester Herald ao 1562." I suppose "R" to have been Robert Cooke, afterwards Clarenceux.

5 William Maddox was of Doncaster, Innholder, married at Pontefract in 1641. Buried at Doncaster, 8 Aug., 1660. Will dated 4 Aug., 1660, proved by his relict in Exchequer Court at York, 29 May, 1661.

6 He probably had three wives, as there is a Marriage Allegation in Archdeaconry of Nottingham, 24 July, 1680, for Thomas Marshall of Aslocton, husbandman, widower, and Hannah Wilcock of Whatton, spinster, aged 23. Some information as to this Thomas and his father, Gervase Marshall, Vicar of South Muskham, co. Nottingham.

The following entries in this register should be added to those given at p. 79 ante.

1590. Oct. 1. Rauffe Marshall the sonne of Rob't Marshall. Bapt.
1591. Sept. 15. Fraunces Marshall the daught. of Rauffe Marshall. Bapt.
1592. Aug. 8. Fraunces Marshall the daught of Rauff Marshall. Bapt.
1593-4. Jan. 22. Robert Oglethorpe a Yorkshire gent., and Anne the daughter of Henrie Marshall. Married.
1593. Nov. 3. William Marshall son of Ralph Marshall. Bapt.
1594. Dec. 15. Margaret dau. of Ralph Marshall. Bapt.
1595. Dec. 19. Alice dau. of Ralph Marshall. Bapt.
1597. March 26. Brigett dau. of Ralph Marshall. Bapt.
1606. July 6. Richard Browne of this parish and Joane Marshall of the parish of Newarke upon Trent. Married.

There are several Marshalls connected with South Muskham, to whom I am unable to assign places in the following pedigree. The adm'on of Robert Marshall, who died in 1604, will be found in Vol. ii., Part 1, p. 102. He appears to have been related to persons of the name residing at Staveley Woodthorpe, co. Derby. See pages 44-46.

Francis Marshall, who died at Newark, and was buried at South Muskham, 3 August, 1624, may have been a son of Ralph Marshall, who died in 1617. It will be noticed in the pedigree that he had two daughters, both named Frances, and they are entered as "daughter" in the parish register. It is not improbable that the word "daughter" in one of these cases has been written in error for "son." The will of Francis Marshall "of Newark upon Trent, Esq.," is dated 29 July, 1624, and was proved by his sister Bridget Marshall, 4 May, 1626. He gives "to Dorothie Marshall my wife the bed whereon I lie." (Vol. i., p. 265.) I find a Dorothy Marshall marrying at Newark, 4 Sept., 1624, to Gabriel Savill. He was buried there 26 March, 1625. Her will, dated 3 April, 1625, was proved at York, 4 May, 1626 (Vol. i., p. 305). The same day be it noted as that of her first husband, Francis Marshall. She was buried at Newark, 4 April, 1625. I cannot vouch for the accuracy of these dates.

Whatton, will be found in the Public Record Office, from suits relating to the tithes of Whatton, Bill Book, Vol. x., Hilary, 23 and 24 Car. II., No. 49; and Mich., 21 Car. II., Bill Book, Vol. xii., Mich., 25 Car. II., No. 58; and Trinity, 29 Car. II., No. 75.

7 Chancery Proceedings, 1714-1758, Winter, 590. Marshall v. Marshall. Bill of Complaint, exhibited 6 Nov., 1753, of Gervas Marshall, of Westminster, Co. Midd'x, Baker, also of parish of St. George, Bloomsbury. "One Martin Marshall your orators uncle dealing in meal and flour." Winifred Marshall, one deft., under age of 21, by her father, the said Martin, of St. Giles in the Fields, Co. Midd'x, Baker.

NOTES OF CHANCERY SUITS.[1]

Marshall v. Godarth.—Whittington I., 447.

12 January, 1669.

Complainant.—Benjamin Marshall of Doncaster, co. York, and Elizabeth his wife, late the relict of William Maddox, late of Leeds, deceased, and executor of his last will.

Defendant.—Joseph Godarth and Cicely his wife.

One Thomas Dent was in his lifetime indebted to William Maddox £40. Upon dying, Cicely his wife administered his estate but did not pay William Maddox his £40. She afterwards married Joseph Godarth. Defendants now refuse to pay complainant the £40.—Vol. ii., part ii., p. 86.

Marshall v. Williamson.—Collins III., 571; Whittington I., 36.

12th Feb., 1649, — May, 1649.

Complainant.—Thomas Marshall of Norwich, gentleman, administrator of the goods of Henry Marshall, gentleman, deceased, complainant's cousin.

Defendant.—Anthony Williamson of Tilney in Marshland in co. Norfolk.

Henry Marshall, deceased, lived for three years or more with the defendant, and last Christmas died in his house, intestate. Complainant being next of kin to the said Henry Marshall, took out letters of administration. Deceased must have had at least £1000 in his possession at time of his decease, but defendant has hidden away the greater part of this.

Marshall v. Marshall.—Collins II., 18.

15th May, 1653.

Complainants.—Mary Marshall, widow and executrix of John Marshall, late of Horton Kirby, co. Kent, yeoman; Humphrey Dixon,[2] of the same, gentleman, Elizabeth his wife, and Mary Marshall, the last two daughters of the said John Marshall, deceased.

Defendant.—John Marshall of Horton Kirby, co. Kent.

John Marshall the elder, about the 23 September, 1652, made his will bequeathing to Mary his wife £20 a year, and after some other legacies were satisfied, among which was an annuity of £10 per annum to his son John, the residue of his estate. Since his death John Marshall the younger has taken possession of the will and probably burnt it, and now claims what the law allows him as next heir.

The defendant says he believes that a messuage possessed by his late father in Horton Kirby, was entailed on him, and it was not in the power of his father to will it away from him. It is true he took his mother's keys, and opening her trunk took from thence two sheets of paper, bound together, and burnt them; but, except that his mother asserted so, he has no reason to believe these were his father's will, as he never read them.

[1] The reference at the end of some of these notes indicates the preceding page of this book at which further information will be found relative to the parties to the suit.

[2] 1650. May 16. Humfre Dixon of Tunbridge, Kent, and Elizabeth Marshall of Horton Kerbey, Kent. Married. Register of St. Bartholomew the Great, London.

Reynardson Depositions, 993.

Deposition taken at Horton Kirbie, co. Kent, 12 July, 1653. Witnesses examined on behalf of Mary Marshall, widow, complainant, against John Marshall, defendant.

John Marshall in bill named was at time of his death seized of a messuage in Horton Kirbie. John Marshall is late husband of Mary, complainant. John, defendant, is son of John, deceased.—Vol. i., p. 114.

Marshall v. Marshall.—Hamilton I., 235, 14.
27th July, 1709.

Complainant.—Petronell Marshall, relict and sole executrix of Nicholas Marshall the elder, late of parish of St. Mabyn, co. Cornwall.

Defendant.—Susannah Marshall and Nicholas Marshall her son, an infant.

An indenture was made between Nicholas Marshall the elder and Nicholas Marshall the younger on the 27th Jan., 1697, by which it was agreed that Nicholas the younger (in consideration of £100) conveyed to Nicholas the elder one house called the Hall, and an orchard adjoining, being in Trevilder in parish of Egloshayle, co. Cornwall. This property was to remain in the hands of Nicholas Marshall the elder and his descendants (leaving Nicholas the younger and his heirs out of account) during the lives of Nicholas the elder and Honor and Elizabeth Marshall, sisters of Nicholas the elder, after which it might be redeemed on payment of £100. Nicholas the elder died, making his will 26th March, 1699, leaving said property to Petronell Marshall (the complainant) his wife. Nicholas the younger, who survived both Honor and Elizabeth, died in 1708, leaving Susannah his wife and Nicholas his son. Susannah and Nicholas have entered into the property and refuse to pay the £100.

Whittington II., 396.

The answer of Susannah Marshall, widow, and Nicholas Marshall, infant, by the said Susannah, his mother and guardian, to the will of Petronell Marshall, complainant.

They say that Petronell Marshall of the parish of St. Mabyn, co. Cornwall, widow, executrix and late wife of Nicholas Marshall, deceased, out of her love for her son Nicholas Marshall, father of defendant, the father since deceased, did give to the said Nicholas her son all her land, etc., in Egloshaile, co. Cornwall, and this ought by right to descend to defendant.—Vol. i., p. 197.

Marshall v. Rogers.—Collins II., 196.
5th June, 1671.

Complainants.—Daniel Marshall of St. Andrew's, Holborn, co. Middlesex; Mary Marshall, daughter of Matthew Marshall, deceased; Martha Marshall, spinster, sister of said Daniel; Samuel Marshall of Huntingdon, co. Huntingdon; Philip Marshall of Eltesley, co. Cambridge; Benjamin Chatteris and Mary his wife, daughter of John Long, deceased, and Margaret his wife; Philip Marshall of London, blacksmith; Anthony Marshall of Cherry Orton, co. Huntingdon, last two being sons of Matthew Marshall, deceased; and Richard Smith of Cambridge.

Defendants.—Richard Rogers and Rebecca his wife and others.

John Marshall of the Inner Temple, gent., did on the 15th December, in the 20th year of his now majesty, publish his will as follows:—"My body to be buried in the Temple Church by my late wife, Martha. To my kinsman John Marshall of the Inner Temple, my silver basin. To Rebecca Rogers, wife of Richard Rogers, and daughter of my late brother, Edward, all my messuages, etc., in or neare Temple Bar, called the greene cushin and . . . . . now in occupation of Robert Britten, carpenter, and Thomas Porter, bricklayer. To Mary and . . . . . the two daughters of Mathew Marshall, son of my late brother, Philip Marshall, my property situate in Hemingby near Hornecastle, co. Lincoln. To Mary Marshall, widow, relict of my said brother Philip, £50. To Daniel Marshall, son of my late brother Miles Marshall, those three messuages situate in Sheirlane, co. Middlesex. To Martha Marshall, sister of said Daniel, my other two messuages in Sheirlane. Item to Thomas Marshall, Taylor, who lives about St. Giles in the fields (and who calls himself my brother) £20. All property I hold of the Archbishop of Canterbury, lying near Dover, co. Kent, to Samuel Marshall, son of my late brother Philip. To Philip Marshall, son of late brother Philip, of Eltisley, co. Cambridge, the lease of the Parsonage of Leesdown in the Isle of Shepey, co. Kent. To Mary, daughter of John Long and Margaret (my late sister, deceased), my property in Long Acre, in parish of St. Martin's in the fields, co. Middlesex, and £100 in money. To Anthony and Philip Marshall, sons of my late brother Matthew, my right to property in Brower's Yard in the Strand. To Richard Smith, my late wife's brother's son, my property in Southwark, co. Surrey. To Joane, wife of Richard Gynn, daughter of my late brother Philip, £20. To Mary, wife of Moses Burton and daughter of my late brother Matthew, £20. Item to Elizabeth Isaac, daughter of my sister Joane Isaac, £40. To the rest of the children of my said sister Joane, £20 each. To the two daughters of my late sister Mary Naull, £20. To the children of Samuel Burdett by Anne, my wife's kinswoman, £50. To children of Elizabeth, now wife of John Bentley, late wife of Peter Frisby, £50. To the children of John Smith by Mary, my late wife's kinswoman, £50. To Martha Mayfield, a jewel. To Miles Marshall, my late brother's widdow, £10. To Mary, relict of my late brother Edward, £30. To Mary, daughter of my sister Margaret Long, my pewter, etc. My presidents to John Warter. I forgive Mr. Killingworth what he owes me. To the poor of Parish of St. Bride's, £5. My kinsman Mr. Robert Marshall, £20. To my cousin Samuel Gabry, £5. I nominate Moses Burton and John Gabry executors. The rest to my sister's nephews and neices, to be divided. Dated 15th December, 1688." The said John, testator, shortly after died. The defendants have got into their hands a false will, and are molesting complainants.

Marshall v. Gabry.—Collins II., 194.

30th June, 1671.

The answer of John Gabry, one of the defendants, to the Bill of Daniel Marshall, Mary Marshall, Martha Marshall, Samuel and Philip Marshall, Benjamin Chatteris and Mary his wife, Philip and Anthony Marshall, and Richard Smith.

He says he doubts if John Marshall, deceased, was in sound mind when he made his will, but he has never interfered in the management of the estate. He will give up an old will in his possession if the Court thinks fit.—Vol. ii., p. 21.

Marshall v. Guilman.—Whittington I., 467.

17 May, 1658.

Complainants.—Mary Morden by John Marshall her guardian and others.

Defendants.—Joseph Guilman and others.

Mary Morden inherited some money from her father, William Morden. Joseph Guilman is one of the executors, and will not pay her.

Marshall v. Morden.—Hamilton II., 237, 106.
26th Nov. 1669.

Complainant.—Cristopher Marshall of Southwark, co. Middlesex, and Elizabeth his wife, administratrix of the goods of Robert Gell her father.

Defendants.—Anne Morden and Robert Morden, an infant, by said Anne his mother.

John Morden was indebted to Robert Gell £100, and died without having paid the debt. Robert Gell is also dead, and Anne, wife of John Morden, ought to pay complainant the £100, she being administratrix of her father's goods.

Marshall v. Morden.—Hamilton III., 485.
21st March, 1670.

The further answer of Anne Morden, widow, and Robert Morden, infant, to the Bill of Cristopher Marshall and Elizabeth his wife.

After the death of John Morden, Anne's late husband, she had an inventory made of his goods, and the total worth of them amounted to £218 19*s.* 6*d.* See "Marshall v. Wallett."

Marshall v. Wallett.—Hamilton III., 498.
26th Nov., 1670.

Complainants.—Cristopher Marshall of Southwark, co. Middlesex, and Elizabeth his wife, daughter of the late Robert Gell, late of St. Mary Aldermary, London.

Defendants.—William Wallett, Katherine Wallett, and others.

John Morden, in co. Cambridge, was in his lifetime, that is in 1660, indebted to Robert Gell £100, and never paid it. John Morden also in 1645 promised for valuable considerations an annuity for life to oratrix of £12. John Morden died worth £500 in personal property, and holding lands in Lincoln and elsewhere. But now Anne, his relict, confederating with William Wallett and Katherine Wallett and others, refuse to pay said sums.

Marshall v. Thompson.—Mitford II., p. 294, 107.
3rd May, 1678.

The answer of Anthony Thompson, one of the defendants, to the Bill of Cristopher Marshall and Elizabeth his wife, and Elizabeth Morden.

He believes that John Morden the younger, sometime of co. Cambridge, did become indebted to Robert Gell in the Bill named, in sum of £100. He does not know if John Morden entered into a bond with Elizabeth Morden, complainant, by which it was agreed that he should pay the said Elizabeth £12 per annum. He says complainants never told him they were owed anything by Anne Morden, relict of the said John Morden. Defendant says he was executor of the said Anne's will. John Morden had lands in Lincolnshire and Cambridgeshire.

Marshall v. Appleyard.—Hamilton III., 528.

Complainant.—Cristopher Marshall of Southwark, co. Surrey, and Elizabeth his wife.

Defendant.—Anne Appleyard.

The late John Appleyard, who was husband to Anne the defendant, borrowed certain sums of money from Robert Gell, father of Elizabeth Marshall the oratrix. Elizabeth Marshall is administratrix of the goods of the late Robert Gell, and has applied to Anne for payment of the debts. Anne will not pay.

Marshall v. Marshall.—Reynardson VI., 277.

23 Jan., 1690.

Complainant.—Elizabeth Marshall of Barnes, co. Surrey, relict of Cristopher Marshall, junior, son of Cristopher Marshall, senior, Dyer, of London.

Defendants.—Cristopher Marshall, senior, of London, and Isaac Delillers.

The two Cristopher Marshalls—father and son—were in partnership for nearly twenty years selling and dyeing cloth. At the death of Cristopher Marshall, junior, one Isaac Delillers owed the firm a considerable sum of money, which upon his death should have by right descended to oratrix. But the two defendants, confederating together, endeavour to keep complainant out of her just rights.

Marshall v. Marshall.—Collins II., 319, 448.

15th March, 1699, 10 June, 1700, and 6 June, 1701.

Complainants.—Sarah Marshall, Rebecca Marshall, Elizabeth Marshall, in behalf of themselves, and Robert Marshall and Ellen Marshall, infants, by said Sarah their next friend.

Defendants.—Gell Marshall, Cristopher Marshall, and others.

Elizabeth Marshall, deceased, late mother of complainants, was daughter of Robert Gell, doctor of divinity. She married Cristopher Marshall, father of complainants, and brought him about £7000. This sum was nearly all the said Cristopher had, and he bought land with it. He made no will before his death, and Gell, his eldest son, came by right into nearly all his estate. Elizabeth Marshall had, however, some land in Cambridgeshire, at Pampisford, Bringes, Duxford and Brightes Closes, and this land she intended to leave to her younger children. She, too, never made a will, but often told Gell in the presence of different people that she did not intend to leave him anything. Gell now confederating with his brother Cristopher endeavours to keep complainants out of their rights.

Gell says his father left a life interest in the Manor of Hinxton, Cambridge, to Elizabeth defendant's mother; also ditto on a copyhold estate in parish of Wandsworth, co. Surrey. He never heard his mother say she intended to leave him nothing.

The further answer of Cristopher Marshall, one of the defendants, to the Bill of Complaint of Sarah Marshall, Rabecca Marshall, and Elizabeth Marshall, on behalf of themselves, and of Robert Marshall and Ellen Marshall, infants.

He says he does not know what lands his late mother died seized of in Brings or Bright's closes, only he knows that one Robert Stubbins was tenant to his late mother for some lands she held at a place called Brings. The defendant, Cristopher Marshall's brother Gell Marshall instructed John Hughes to act for him. This John Hughes, his brother has told him, was a perfect cheat or one of the worst of men, and he never asked him to draw any articles for him.

The answers of Elizabeth Marshall, Robert Marshall, and Ellen Marshall, by their Guardian Sarah Marshall, to the Bill of Gell Marshall.

They say it may be true that Gell Marshall is the eldest son of Cristopher Marshall, deceased, late of London, and that he, the late Cristopher, held lands in Cambridgeshire, Lincoln, and Surrey, but these estates were purchased with his wife's money. It is not true that these defendants or John Hughes ever made complainant sign the articles referred to in his bill.

Marshall v. Marshall.—Mitford, III., 456, 46.
24th April, 1700.

Complainant.—Cristopher Marshall of London, apothecary, administrator of the goods of Elizabeth Marshall his mother, deceased.

Defendants.—Sarah Marshall, Rebecca, Elizabeth, Robert, and Ellen Marshall, the last two infants.

Elizabeth Marshall, complainant's late mother, was the only daughter of Robert Gell, who by his will left her worth £10,000 or more, which came to Cristopher Marshall, father of complainant, upon his intermarriage with her. After the death of both Cristopher and Elizabeth his wife, complainant, together with his brother Gell, intended administering the estate, and fearing the evil purposes of John Hughes, who married Sarah Marshall, and the other defendants, he locked the door of his mother's room. The defendants have broken this open and taken away all the jewels and valuables contained in it.—Vol. I., App. p. 33.

Marshall v. Marshall.—Whittington I., 77.
17 Dec., 1664.

Complainant.—Edmond Marshall of Newcastle upon Tyne.
Defendants.—Thomas Marshall and John Marshall.

Thomas Marshall's Defence.—He does not believe it to be true that William Marshall, late of More Allerton, was indebted to Sir Charles Hussey of Hunnington, co. Lincoln, kt. He believes the complainant was due that amount to him, and got defendant to stand surety for him among others.

Marshall v. Marshall.—Whittington I., 77.
1st July, 1664.

The answer of George Marshall, one of the defendants, to the Bill of Edmund Marshall.

He says it may be true William Marshall, father of defendant and complainant, made a will dated 22 April, 1662, but he also made a will on the 9th July, 1662, cancelling all former wills.

Marshall v. Marshall.—Reynardson I. and II., 408.
11th Nov., 1670.

Complainants.—Edmund Marshall of Newcastle upon Tyne, Robert Brook, John Sharp, etc.
Defendant.—George Marshall.

William Marshall had a debt which he could not pay, and Edmund Marshall and George, sons of William, entered with others into a bond for its payment. William is since dead, and George, who is his eldest son and has inherited all his estate refuses to pay his share of the debt, alledging that his father gave him a counter bond cancelling his share.

Marshall v. Marshall.—Hamilton I., 237, 78; Whittington I., 75.
21st Jan., 1664, 24 Oct., 1664.

Complainant.—Edmund Marshall of Newcastle upon Tyne.
Defendant.—George Marshall of Moore Allerton, co. York.

William Marshall, the father of both complainant and defendant, being in want of £200, borrowed it from Sir Charles Hussy. George and Edmund, together with Richard Midgely and Henry Rhoades, entered into a bond also insuring the payment of this. William the father died without paying the debt, and George, before he died, got him to enter secretly into making a counter bond relieving him (George) from all risk.—See Interrogatories to be administered on behalf of George Marshall, gent., one of the defendants, to Bill of Edmund Marshall, woollen draper.—Hamilton, Depositions, II., p. 275.

Marshall v. Marshall.—Whittington II., 100.
10th May, 1665.

Complainant.—John Marshall of city of London, surviving executor of the last will of William Marshall, his late brother.
Defendant.—Edmund Marshall.

William Marshall of More Allerton, co. York, deceased, father of complainant and defendant, was in his lifetime anxious to give Edmund his second son a piece of land in a village called Woodhouse. But not thinking this would be fair to his other children, he made Edmund enter into a bond by which he had to pay £100 in a given time to his (Edmund's) brother William. William the father died, and William the son (not knowing in his lifetime about this bond) also died beyond seas. John is executor of William's will, and Edmund nevertheless refuses to pay him the £100.

Marshall v. Marshall.—Whittington II., 96.
22nd Nov., 1666.

Complainant.—Thomas Marshall of London, merchant, son of William Marshall of Moor Allerton, Leeds, Yorkshire.
Defendants.—Edmund Marshall, George Marshall, etc.

William Marshall, about the 22 April, 1662, made his will. By this he gave to his son Edmund and his friends Edward Birckby and Timothy Rayner and their heirs all his water mills called Woodmilne, in Chappell Allerton, also his messuage, etc., in Kirkgate. This messuage, etc., to be sold, and £600 out of proceeds to pay his debts. Also he bequeathed to Edmund his son, Birckby, and Timothy Rayner his dwellinghouse in Moor Allerton, in trust for his wife Elizabeth. To his son William, £100. To his son, Thomas Marshall, £100. To his wife's daughters Francis and Mary Hodgson, £10. The residue of his estate to be divided between Elizabeth Lambe, wife of William Lambe, [1] Mary wife of Robert Brooke, Gertrude wife of Henry Wilden, Edmund, William, Robert, John, and Thomas, his sons. Since the making this will both William and Robert Marshall are dead. The trustees will not administer the said estate, and George and Edmund, confederating together, pretend another will exists.

Marshall v. Marshall.—Hamilton III., 538.
26th Jan., 1678.

Complainants.—Edmund Marshall of Moor Allerton, co. York, son of William Marshall of Moor Allerton, co. York.
Defendants.—Katherine Marshall, widow, George Marshall, an infant, by Katherine his mother.

William Marshall was in his lifetime seized of lands and tenements in Moor Allerton. He being anxious to make provision for his children—George his eldest son being about to marry—made his last will and did by it bequeath to complainant, Edward Birkby of Scoldcroft, co. York, Timothy Raner of Galberston, co. York, all that water corn mill called Wood Milne, in the lordship of Chappell Allerton, co. York, also a messuage and tenement in Leeds Kirkgate. These were to be sold and £600 of the profits to be applied to payment of the testator's debts. Also he devises the dwelling house in Moor Allerton, where he dwelt, to be given during three years to Elizabeth his wife; after that the house to go to George, testator's elder son, he paying £300 to Martha, Mary, and Elizabeth Brooke, daughters of Robert and Mary Brooke (Mary Brooke being sister of complainant and said George). George in his lifetime would not suffer complainant to perform the will, but brought forth another which he said was genuine, and they had several law suits, in which George lost. Now Katherine Marshall, relict of said George, and George her son, pretend that by a deed William Marshall the father gave George his son the messuages declared in the will to be sold in payment of debts.

[1] William Lamb was of Coulston, co. Gloucester, and died circa 1675.—See Visitation of Gloucestershire, 1683.

Marshall v. Marshall.—Whittington II., 139.

23rd Oct., 1680.

Complainant.—Katherine Marshall, widow, administratrix of goods, etc., of George Marshall her late husband, and George Marshall an infant by said Katherine his mother. George the infant is grandson of William Marshall of Moor Allerton.

Defendants.—Frances Marshall, William Marshall, Edward Birkby, Robert Brooke, etc.

George Marshall is heir to some property through George his father from William his grandfather, but Frances the relict of Edmund son of William, and William son of Edmund and grandson of William, claim it through said Edmund.—(See Depositions 914 for Interrogatories.)—See Vol. i., p. 136; ii , Part ii., p. 56, etc.

Marshall v. Brooke.—Mitford Dep., 681.

9th April, 19 James I.

Examination of Nicholas Reyner, of Stubley, co. York, for George Marshall and Agnes his wife, and John Whittaker, against Thomas Brooke and Margaret Brooke and others.

He says he knew Edmonde Brooke, father of Thomas Brooke, and Jennett his wife. He says he has heard it reported that Jennett had the old house at Stanley settled upon her, and that Agnes, one of the complainants, lived therein.

Marshall v. Brooke.—Whittington II., 100.

10th May, 1665.

Complainant.—John Marshall of London, executor of the will of his late brother William Marshall of Moore Allerton, co. York.

Defendant.—Robert Brooke.

William Marshall, late of Moore Allerton, complainant's father, left Edmond his second son some land in a village called Woodhouse. This he thought too large a legacy, so he made Edmond become bound to William, Edmond's brother, in a bond of £200. William the brother died over seas. Now Edmond, combining with Robert Brooke, will not pay the £200, pretending to have paid the same and producing a forged receipt.

Marshall v. Brooke.—Hamilton III., 531.

5th July, 1677.

Complainant.—Edmond Marshall of Moore Allerton, parish of Leeds, co. York, son of William Marshall, late of Moore Allerton.

Defendants.—Robert Brooke, Martha Brooke, and others.

On the 22 April, 1662, the late William Marshall published his will, and among other legacies left to Edmond his son, the complainant, to Edward Birkby of Scolecroft, and to Timothy Reyner the woodmilne in the manor of Chappell Allerton, co. York. He also left £300 to defendants, and made orator executor. Orator paid defendants their legacy, but they now pretend they have never received it.

Marshall v. Rodes.—Whittington II., 99.

24th Oct. 1664.

Complainant.—Edmund Marshall of Newcastle upon Tyne, woollen draper.

Defendants.—Henry Rhodes, Richard Midgeley, and others.

William Marshall, late of Moore Allerton, co. Yorke, borrowed some money from Sir Charles Hussey, and George Marshall, his eldest son, and Edmund Marshall, the complainant, together with defendants, became bound with him to the said Sir Charles Hussey. Now defendants (William being dead) try to make complainant meet the whole sum.

Marshall v. Lambe.— Reynardson III., 49.

6th July, 1666.

Complainant.—John Marshall of Moore Allerton, co. Yorke.

Defendant.—William Lambe, George Marshall, and others.

The answer of William Lambe.

He says he believes that Edmund Marshall did about the time mentioned begin a suit in the Common Pleas against George Marshall in the Bill named. The complainant and defendant became bail for the said George Marshall. The said George is supposed to have become bound to Edmund in trust for William Marshall the father.

The answer of George Marshall.

He believes that William Marshall his father held lands in Moore Allerton. He made his will the 19th July, 1662, as follows. His body to be buried in the Parish Church at Leeds. To George Marshall, my eldest son, my water corn-mill and fulling mill, called Woodmill, and houses belonging, being in Chapel Allerton, also my house in Leeds Kirkgate, on condition he pay to Thomas Marshall my youngest son £250, and to the three daughters of Robert Brooke my son-in-law, Martha, Elizabeth, and Jane. To Elizabeth my wife household goods. To Robert Brooke and Mary his wife my Smithy Mill. To Mary Duffield my grandchild, £10. Ann Duffield my grandchild. To Elizabeth my eldest daughter, wife of William Lambe, £40. Whereas there are £50 owing to me by my son Edmund Marshall I give £10 thereof to his son William Marshall, £10 to Mary his daughter, and £10 to Frances his wife. All the rest of my goods to George my son and Elizabeth my wife, whom I make my executors. Defendant believes before the making of this will another will was made, but this will revokes the former one.

Marshall v. Blake.—Whittington II., 123.

6th Feb., 1673.

The answer of William Blake to the Bill of John Marshall, executor of William Marshall, deceased.

He says he believes William Marshall was a merchant trading in the East Indies. He had a letter from the said William, ordering him to look after his goods, which he faithfully did, and all goods intrusted to him he has faithfully returned.—See also, Hamilton, II., 236.

Marshall v. Bridges.—Hamilton III., 510.

19th June, 1674.

Complainant.—John Marshall of London, salter, executor of the last will of his brother William Marshall of Hughley, in the East Indies, merchant.

Defendant.—Shem Bridges.

Shem Bridges resided in Hughley, East Indies, at the time of William Marshall's death, and complainant desired him to make an inventory of and look after the personal estate of his brother. He took possession of the said estate but has never properly accounted for it.—Vol. i., p. 136.

Marshall v. Marshall.—Whittington I., 486.

30 Nov., 1677.

Complainants.—John Marshall of London; Henry Barwell of the Borough of Leicester, co. Leicester, and Sara his wife; John Day of the same and Mary his wife; John Marshall, Sara, and Mary, being daughters of John Marshall, of Leicester, blacksmith.

Defendants.—Susannah Marshall, relict of William Marshall (who was brother to John Marshall the elder), and Tobias his son and heir.

John Marshall died about 1655, when complainants were under age, and William administered his estate. He also died shortly after, and Susannah his widow and Tobias his son came into possession of not only his estate but also the estate of John Marshall. Defendants will not now give complainants their due.—Vol. i., App., p. 17.

Marshall v. Marshall.—Mitford IV., 588.

24th May, 1699.

Complainant.—Samuel Marshall of Eshold, co. York.

Defendant.—Joseph Marshall.

Edward Marshall of Yeadon, co. York, grandfather of complainant and defendant, married Jennett, daughter of William Womersley, and by so doing became proprietor of certain lands, etc., in Horsforth, which the said Jennett inherited from her father. By Jennett, Edward Marshall had issue, Samuel (the eldest), father of complainant; Abraham (the second), father of defendant; William, Joseph, Jeremy, Elizabeth, and Mary. Samuel Marshall, the complainant, should come into this property, being eldest son of the eldest son of Edward Marshall. But defendant will not allow him to do this, pretending that Jennett conveyed the said property to his father Abraham, by a deed dated 14th May, 1628.—Vol. i., p. 282.

Marshall v. Marshall.—Whittington III., 353.

21st April, 1697.

Complainant.—Richard Marshall, the elder, of Longhope, co. Gloucester, son of late William Marshall of Longhope.

Defendant.—Anne Marshall, widow.

William Marshall, owing some money, got orator to pay it for him, and promised to return it. In November 1670, he died, leaving great sums of money, and his wife Elizabeth administered the estate. Elizabeth also died, making Thomas, orator's younger brother, executor, and shortly after Thomas also died, making his wife Anne executor. Anne will not pay orator his debt.

Marshall v. Marshall.—Whittington II., 279.

15th Nov., 1690.

Complainant.—Cristopher Marshall of Masham, co. York.

Defendant.—Mary Marshall, relict of Arthur Marshall.

Arthur Marshall, on the 28th February, 1690, died intestate, leaving some real estate in Carleton, Masham, Fearby, and elsewhere, which orator, being next heir, should inherit, but Mary Marshall, his relict, will not allow this.—Vol. i., p. 83—ii. Part ii., p. 100.

Marshall v. Burges.—Collins III., 544.

9th May, 1687.

Complainant.—Thomas Marshall of Whitchurch, co. Southhampton, and Jane his wife.

Defendant.—Anne Burges.

Richard Burges of Lurgarshall, co. Wilts., blacksmith, left certain messuages to his son William Burges, on condition that his said son would pay £20 to Jane his sister and now wife of complainant. William died before fulfilling his father's orders, and now Anne his wife refuses to do so on sundry pretexts.

Marshall v. Parlby.—Bridges II., 173.

4th Dec., 1693.

Complainants.—William Marshall of Scalford, co. Leicester, gent., administrator of the goods of John Marshall, late of Scalford, his father; and Elizabeth Wilcocks of Melton Mowbray, co. Leicester, widow, executrix of the will of Richard Willcocks, late of Melton Mowbray, her husband.

Defendants.—Hugh Parleby and Margaret his wife.

George Dixon, junior, late of Statherne, co. Leicester, being in need of money, came to John Marshall, deceased, and borrowed money from him. John Marshall lent it to him and entered into an agreement dated 7th December, 1675, by which it was agreed that the money should be returned with interest in or before May next ensuing. Richard Willcocks also entered into a similar agreement with George Dixon. George Dixon, being unable to pay on the agreed day, delivered into Richard Wilcock's hands an indenture of feoffment or deed of purchase of land lying in Statherne, which the said Richard Willcocks and John Marshall were to keep until the moneys were returned. George Dixon died, and the land descended to Margaret, wife of Hugh Parleby, who refuses to acknowledge complainant's right to it.—Vol. i., p. 154.

Marshall v. Marshall.—Mitford V., 318.

15th July, 1663.

Complainant.—Henry Marshall of Egton Banks, in the parish of Lyth, co. York, son of Ralph Marshall of Oakbar Holme, co. York.

Defendant.—Margaret Marshall, relict of William Marshall, eldest son of Ralph, also complainant's father.

On the 19th July, 1643, Ralph Marshall died intestate. William, his eldest son, came into the real estate lying in Oakbar holme and Egton Banks. About three weeks after the said Ralph's death Jane his wife also died intestate. Both Ralph and Jane were possessed of a large personal estate which should in part have come to complainant. But complainant being not then of age, William administered the estate and never gave complainant his share, though he was always promising to do so. About four years since William died, and now Margaret his relict refuses to acknowledge complainant's claim.

Marshall v. Agar.—Mitford II., 112.
12th Feb., 1652.

Complainants.—Henry Marshall of the Lordship of Egton, co. York, yeoman, and Mary his wife.
Defendant.—William Agar.

Peter Agar, son of William Agar, married oratrix, and said William promised to give him a certain sum of money on his marriage. Peter died before he received this, and now William will not give it to oratrix, his relict. Mary, oratrix, is now wife of Henry Marshall, and is daughter of John Keld, late of Harwood Dale, co. York.—Vol. i., p. 274.

Marshall v. Maddison.—Hamilton III., 464.
17th Nov., 1662.

Complainant.—Thomas Marshall of Kingston upon Hull, co. York, marriner.
Defendant.—Robert Maddison.

Thomas Robertson of Humberston, co. Lincoln, and Elizabeth Hansard, mother of said Thomas, or one of them, were seized of some land in parish Trusthorpe and a close called South Somerhead, in co. Lincoln. This property they or one of them sold to William Marshall, complainant's uncle. William died about 22 years since, and the property went to Ralph his brother. Ralph sold the same to orator, who is Ralph's son. But Robert Maddison claims the property by right of descent through Thomas Maddison his grandfather, and William Maddison his father.

Marshall v. Marshall.—Hamilton IV., 638.
19th March, 1707.

Complainant.—John Marshall of Thedlethorpe, co. Lincoln, eldest son and executor of the will of William Marshall, late of Thedlethorpe, co. Lincoln.
Defendant.—William Marshall and Katherine Marshall (now Odlinge), brother and sister to complainant.

William Marshall made his will on the 21st August, 1706, leaving certain sums of money to William and Katherine, his two younger children, an annuity of £40 per annum to Grace his wife, and the residue of his estate to complainant, his eldest son. At the time of his father's death complainant was with his regiment, he being a lieutenant, and also for some little time after. When he got home he found his brother and sister had been selling a great deal of his personal estate (that left him by his late father), and with the help of Thomas Odlinge of Hammersmith, whom Katherine Marshall married, committed other fraudulent practices.—Vol. i., p. 13.

Marshall v. Barnard.—Collins II., 231.
6th Nov., 1677.

Complainants.—William Marshall of Thedlethorpe, co. Lincoln, and Grace his wife, sole daughter of William Smyth, late of Humberstone, co. Lincoln.
Defendants.—Thomas Barnard, Anthony Allenson, and others.

William Smith, father of the defendant Grace, about 1672 made his last will and left her the bulk of his estate, which she was to receive on her majority or marriage. He made Anthony Allenson and others executors thereof. Also John Smith made his will in 1668, this John Smith being Grace's grandfather, and left oratrix £50, which she was never paid by her father William, who was John's executor. The defendants will not account for the personal estate of the late William, Grace's father, nor give her her due.

Marshall v. Marshall.—Hamilton I., 233, 25.
16th Jan., 1713.

Complainant.—William Marshall of Braybrooke, co. Northampton, one of the sons of Richard Marshall of Braybrooke, deceased.
Defendants.—Susannah Marshall, widow, and Robert Marshall, an infant, by Susannah his mother.

Richard Marshall in his lifetime was seized of sundry closes, lands, and hereditaments in Braybrook and upon the 4th February, 1703, made his will, leaving complainant a legacy of £100, and shortly after died. After his death Thomas Marshall his eldest son took possession of his property, and some time after, without having paid complainant, died, leaving Robert, his eldest son. Complainant has applied to Robert for his legacy, but Robert, confederating with his mother Susannah, refuses to give it to him.

The defendants in answer say Thomas Marshall, in Bill named died leaving Robert his son and Hannah his daughter and Susannah his wife. Defendant's have never refused to pay complainant his legacy.—Vol. i., p. 312.

Marshall v. Marshall.—Mitford IV., 574.
1st May, 1696.

Complainant.—William Marshall of Wray, co. Lancaster, son of John of Wray.
Defendant.—Thomas Marshall, who married the sister of John Marshall, complainant's father.

John Marshall had an estate in Wray, and in June, 1676, died, leaving complainant, his only son, then aged eight years, and one daughter named Jennett, since married to one Robert Fletcher of Melling. Upon pretext of relationship, Thomas Marshall, the defendant, took out letters of administration and administered John Marshall's estate. He has, however, cheated complainant.—Vol. ii., pp. 33, 34.

Marshall v. Marshall.—Hamilton Depositions, II., 275; James I. Mitford I., 72.

Complainant.—Robert Marshall.
Defendant.—Alice Marshall, widow.

John Marshall, deceased, was husband to Alice, defendant, and lived at Exeter. Robert, the complainant, is brother to John Marshall, deceased, the younger. The dispute is in connection with money left by John Marshall to his brother.—Vol. ii., p. 10.

Marshall v. Payne.—Mitford V., 330.
3 Dec., 1677.

Complainant.—Jael Marshall, relict of James Marshall, late of City of Exeter, deceased.[1]
Defendants.—Hugh Abell, Cristopher Payne, Andrew Stavicke, and others.

James Marshall, in consideration of a marriage between oratrix and him did by indenture grant certain lands he had in St. Olave and elsewhere, within the City of Exeter, to her after his death. The defendants have now entered into possession, and pretend the property was mortgaged to them for considerable sums of money.

[1] He was of Exeter, Brewer, in 1665.—See Marshall v. Tucker.—Hamilton III., 470.

Marshall v. Stavicke.—Mitford II., 216.

3rd Dec., 1677.

Complainant.—Jael Marshall, relict of James Marshall, late of the City of Exeter, and daughter of William Mercer.

Defendants—Andrew Stavicke and others.

The late James Marshall had some land in the Parish of St. Olave, and also some in the north part of the City of Exeter. The last mentioned land was by indenture conveyed to oratrix on John Marshall's death, in consideration of a marriage portion given to said James Marshall by William Mercer. But one Hugh Abell, combining with Andrew Stavicke and others, have taken possession of the premises.—Vol. ii., p. 13.

Marshall v. Heather.—Bridges V., 627.

27th Jan., 1700.

Complainant.—John Marshall of Sharlston, co. York.

Defendant.—Samuel Heather of London, apothecary.

The complainant was settled with his wife and family at Selby, when Samuel Heather, brother of complainant's wife, urged him to remove with his family to Sharlston, and take a farm there belonging to the said defendant. This farm was in bad repair, but Heather promised to put it in good repair if complainant would take it on a lease for three years. This complainant did, but defendant will not perform his part of the bargain.—Vol. i., p. 309, etc.

Thomas Marshall.—Reynardson I. and II., 431.

28th Nov., 1699.

Complainant.—Thomas Marshall, eldest son of Humfrey Marshall, deceased, late of Combes Head, co. Derby.

Defendant.—Humfrey Marshall the younger, 4th son of Humfrey Marshall the elder.

Humfrey Marshall the elder and his heirs had conveyed to them land lying in Chapel le Frith, co. Derby, by Thomas Month and Anne his wife. To the use of Humfrey Marshall for life, then to orator for life, then to George, second son of Humfrey the elder, then to Godfrey, third son of the said Humfrey, and after to the use of any other sons of the said Humfrey. Orator married the daughter of Roger Worthenton. Defendant pretends the said premises belong to him by deed, being conveyed to him by Humfrey the elder, Humfrey the elder being dead.

Marshall v. Marshall.—Whittington III., 535.

13 May, 1703.

Complainant.—Thomas Marshall of Hinckley, co. Leicester.

Defendants.—Nathaniel Marshall and Elizabeth Flavil, both children of Elizabeth Marshall, orator's mother.

Thomas Marshall being in debt conveyed to his mother his house at Hinckley, and also some land at Earleshilton, co. Leicester, on the understanding that she (orator's mother) would pay orator's debts and leave said home, etc., to orator in her will. This she never did, leaving orator nothing, or next to nothing, and his brother and sister, the defendants, all.—Vol. i., pp. 231-3.

Marshall v. Marshall.—Mitford II., 116, 123.
26th May, 1652.

Complainant.—Anne Marshall of Little Tew, co. Oxford, executrix of the last will of John Marshall, her late husband, and of Edmund Marshall, son of the said John and Anne.
Defendant.—Ralph Marshall.

Anne Marshall before exhibited a Bill against Ralph Marshall the elder and Ralph Marshall the younger, his son, for the payment of certain sums of money intrusted to them for her use by her late husband. After the lawsuit, complainant and defendant agreed to submit unsettled differences to John Cary. But John Cary confederating with Ralph Marshall the elder is endeavouring to cheat complainant.—Vol. i., App. 10.

Marshall v. Marshall.—Mitford III., 473, 25.
29 Jan., 1705.

Complainant.—Anne Marshall, relict of Hezekiah Marshall, who worked for Government at Deptford, co. Kent.
Defendant.—Thomas Marshall, father of Hezekiah Marshall.

Thomas Marshall had left him a great number of valuables and a great deal of money by Hezekiah in trust for Anne, complainant, and will not account properly for them.—Vol. i., App. 34.

Marshall v. Corbett.—Reynardson IV., 86.
24th Oct., 1679.

Complainant.—Elizabeth Marshall of Westminster, relict of James Marshall of St. Martin in the fields, co. Middlesex.
Defendant.—Nicholas Corbett.

Robert Parsons of Waybridge, deceased, late husband of oratrix, by his will left some copyhold land held according to the custom of the manor of Cobham, co. Surrey, to Elizabeth the oratrix. After his death Elizabeth married James Marshall. James Marshall being in debt one Thomas Poole promised to relieve him on condition that Elizabeth would convey said lands to him. This Elizabeth did, but Thomas Poole promised that upon receipt of the money given to Elizabeth again he would return her the land. Nicholas Corbett has the land now, and refuses to give it up to oratrix.

Marshall v. Corbett.—Reynardson II., 416.
12th May, 1683.

Complainant.—Elizabeth Marshall of St. Margaret's, Westminster, co. Middlesex, widow, relict of James Marshall.
Defendants.—Nicholas Corbett and Thomas Poole.

Robert Parsons, late of Weybridge, co. Surrey, was in his lifetime seized of some lands in Surrey. These by his will he left to Elizabeth his then wife, and after her death to Symon Walter his uncle, the oratrix's late father. Both Elizabeth and Symon Walter are dead, and the lands should descend to oratrix. But defendants endeavour to defraud her of her rights.

Marshall, Richard.—Collins III., 542.
4th Jan., 1695.

Complainant.—Richard Marshall of London, cordweaver.
Defendants.—Alice Battin of Nuberry, co. Berks.; Michael Hullcupp of Baghurst, co. Southampton; and John Deane.

Thomas Hullcupp, deceased, was seized of land, etc., in the parish of Baghurst, co. Southampton, and being so seized married Jane Marshall, complainant's mother. Because of this marriage he settled the said lands on Jane and her heirs, if he should die without heirs. This he did, and complainant is entitled to the property, being next of kin to Jane, that is eldest son of Jane by her former husband John Marshall. But the defendants claim the said property and endeavour to oust orator.

Marshall v. Marshall.—Mitford V., 330, 51.

28th May, 1679.

Complainant.—Steven Marshall of Ashover, co. Derby.

Defendant.—Martin Marshall.

William Marshall, father of both complainant and defendant, was in his lifetime seized of land, etc., in Bradwall, co. Derby, and dying, about 1660, intestate, complainant should come into the property, being his eldest son. But Martin his (complainant's) younger brother pretends William the father, by a deed in his lifetime, conveyed the said property to him, and molests complainant.

Marshall v. Gray.—Whittington II., 95.

4th Oct., 1662.

Complainant.—Gilbert Marshall of Houghall, co. Durham.

Defendants.—Ralph Gray and Barbara his wife.

Complainant having occasion to borrow money went to one William Calverley, late of Newcastle, and got him to lend him some £700, and Richard Marshall of Gray's Inn, London, and himself became bound in the sum of £1000 for repayment, several other people standing security. But the said William Calverley, not thinking his money secure, asked orator to sell him his manor of Sellaby, which he did. Now defendants, who are the admistrator's of William Calverley, try to make orator pay the £1000, the bonds never having been cancelled as they ought.

Marshall v. Stamford.—Mitford II., 208.

14th Feb., 1675.

Complainants.—Richard Marshall of Gray's Inn, co. Middlesex, and Katherine his wife, and John Skinner.

Defendant.—Alice Stanford.

Katherine and John Skinner, orators, were executors of the will of Nicholas Skinner. Nicholas Skinner was owed £100 by Anthony Stanford and Alice his relict will not satisfy the said debt, though Anthony died worth a great deal of money.

Marshall v. Marshall.—Whittington III., 522.

19th Jan., 1670.

Complainant.—Gilbert Marshall, late of Houghall, co. Durham, deceased, son of Gilbert Marshall of same place.

Defendant.—Richard Marshall of Gray's Inn, London, uncle of complainant.

Gilbert Marshall, father of complainant, wanted to renew a lease of the manor of Heburne, co. Durham, and borrowed £600 from his brother Richard to do this. Richard now pretends the manor belongs to him.

Marshall v. Marshall.—Whittington II., 249.

27th Jan., 1698.

Complainant.—Richard Marshall of Gray's Inn, co. Middlesex.

Defendants.—Jane Marshall, and Gilbert Marshall her father.

Orator married one Jane Cannon, relict of Henry Cannon, and the said Jane by deed conveyed certain lands lying in Harpedon, co. Hertford, and some others lying in Luton, co. Bedford, to orator. She died, and her daughter Jane Cannon, married Gilbert Marshall, junior, son of Gilbert Marshall, orator's elder brother, Jane daughter of Gilbert Marshall, junr., and Jane his wife, now claims said property as heir to orator's wife Jane.

Marshall, Richard.—Reynardson I. and II., 435.
2nd Dec., 1696.

Complainant.—Richard Marshall of Gray's Inn, co. Middlesex.
Defendant.—Jane Marshall, daughter and heir of Jane Marshall deceased, late wife of Gilbert Marshall of Sellaby, co. Durham, daughter and heir of Jane Cannon.

Jane Cannon had lands, etc., in Harpedon, co. Hertford, and within the parish of Luton, co. Bedford. In the year 1662 orator married Jane Cannon, she having previously conveyed the said lands to him. Now the defendant pretends the lands should descend to her.—Vol. ii., p. 4.

Marshall v. Fossicke.—Hamilton III., 394.
11 Feb., 1650.

Complainant.—John Marshall of Wisbich in the Isle of Ely, co. Cambridge, son of John Marshall of the Isle of Ely, by Jackomye his first wife.
Defendants.—Alice Marshall, second wife of John Marshall the father; James Marshall and William Marshall her sons; and others.

John Marshall the father made a will in favour of Alice and Alice's children, but he revoked that will and made one favourable to complainant. The second will has got into defendant's hands, and they pretend the first was never cancelled. John Marshall the father died in June last past. No mention of Fossicke in the Bill.

The answers of Alice Marshall, widow, and William Marshall, gentleman, to the Bill of John Marshall.

They believe it to be true that John Marshall, gentleman, in the Bill named, late husband of the defendant Alice, and father of the defendant William, was seized of lands in Cambridge, North Notts., and Lincoln, also land in the Isle of Ely. The said John had issue by his former wife, complainant, and by the defendant Alice two sons (that is to say) this defendant William Marshall, and James Marshall, and four daughters now living. They never had any deeds other than those given them by the will of the late John Marshall.

Marshall v. Marshall.—Hamilton, Depositions I., 271.

Interrogatories to be administered to witnesses on behalf of John Marshall, gentleman, complainant, against William Marshall, gentleman, and Alice Marshall, widow, defendants.

John Marshall, father of complainant, had land in Marshland, co. Norfolk. He made his last will 21st April, 1650. William Marshall, defendant, is son of John Marshall the elder, and brother of complainant.

John Marshall the elder had complainant by Jacomy his first wife. Complainant married Alice.

Marshall v. Marshall.—Hamilton III., 434.

1652.

Complainant.—Frances Marshall of the Isle of Ely, co. Cambridge, one of the daughters of John Marshall of Wisbich, deceased, by Isaac Degge of London, her guardian.

Defendant.—William Marshall.

John Marshall before he died made William his son executor of his last will, and made him promise particularly to give oratrix £500 as stated in the will, and besides that a yearly sum, the amount of which orator knows not. William her brother has never yet fulfilled the trust reposed in him.—Vol. i., App. p. 13.

Marshall v. Lacy.—Collins II., 143, 216.

21st Oct., 1657.

Complainant.—William Marshall of Lincoln's Inn, co. Middlesex.

Defendants.—Thomas Lacy, John Mann, Thomas Scott, and others.

Complainant had certain marshlands and tenements in the Isle of Ely, co. Cambridge. These were useless, owing to the water. But lately the Earl of Bedford drained the land, and orator's property has become valuable. The defendants have unjustly taken possession.

Marshall v. Budd.—Collins II., 147.

1660 ?

The answer of John Budd, defendant, to the Bill of John Marshall, complainant.

He says it is true William Budd, the complainant, John Marshall's grandfather, and this defendant's father was seized of property in the parish of Wellington, co. Somerset. It is true Edith, William Budd's eldest daughter, married John Marshall, complainant's father. He denies that his father ever made a deed giving certain property called Roegreene to the complainant's father.

Marshall v. Cowlam.—Mitford V., 318.

24th Oct., 1660.

Complainant.—Charles Marshall of Great Limber, and heretofore of Little Limber, co. Lincoln.

Defendant.—William Cowlam.

Complainant, Charles Marshall of Kirmingtonne and William Cowlam entered into a Bond with Sir Edward Rosseter, which has become due. William Cowlam will not pay his share of this, nor will he pay other sums of money which he owes complainant.

Marshall v. Cowlam.—Whittington I., 63.

22 Nov., 1661.

Complainant.—Charles Marshall of Crowston (late of Little Limber) co. Lincoln.

Defendant.—William Cowlam.

Complainant was tenant to Sir Edward Rossiter of Somerby, co. Lincoln, and could not pay his rent. William Cowlam lent him money to do so, said money to be repaid on a certain date. Complainant could not do this, and defendant first took his stock, and then wanted full payment of the Bond.

Marshall v. Ellis.—Hamilton III., 560.

24th Jan., 1681.

Complainant.—John Marshall an infant by Jonathan Coulam of London, dyer.

Defendant.—Richard Ellis.

John Marshall the complainant is the only son of John Marshall, who was the eldest son of Charles Marshall, late of Kirmington, co. Lincoln, yeoman, who married Mary King, the eldest daughter of John King, late of Wootten, co. Lincoln. John King had property in Wootten and Kermington and elsewhere, and this property should come to complainant, he being the legal heir, his grandfather Charles Marshall having married John King's daughter Mary King. But one Richard Ellis claims to be nearer and has entered into possession. Vol. i., p. 113.

Marshall v. Unett.—Hamilton II., 239, 119.

13 Jan., 1662.

Complainant.—Richard Marshall the younger of Longdon, co. Stafford.

Defendants.—Alice Unett of Longdon, widow, and others.

John Unett of Longdon and Robert Shipton in February, 13th Charles II., sold two copyhold closes in the manor of Longdon, to Richard Marshall, Elizabeth his wife, and their heirs, and afterwards died. The defendants now try to force complainant from the premises, pretending they belong to them on account of a former lease.

Marshall v. Lycett.—Hamilton II., 240, 88.

22 Nov., 1647.

Complainants.—Hugh Marshall of Longdon, co. Stafford, and Margaret his wife, daughter of John Browne, late of Longdon, deceased.

Defendants.—Henry Lycett, William Clerke, and others.

The defendants had some land called Sandy Glades in Longdon left them in trust for Richard Brown by the late John Brown, upon this condition, that if the said Richard did not, within a certain time, pay £40 to oratrix then the land was to go to her. Richard did not pay the money in the given time, and the land ought to come to oratrix.—Vol. i., App. pp. 2, 3.

Marshall v. Watson.—Whittington II., 139.

Complainant.—Anthony Marshall of Kirby Kendall, co. Westmoreland.

Defendants.—Henry Watson and James Watson.

Complainant married Jennett, daughter of Henry Watson, and niece of James Watson. The said Henry and James promised a marriage portion with her of £80 which they will not now pay.

Marshall v. Kniveton.—Hamilton III., 416.

29th Nov., 1652.

Complainant.—John Marshall of London, draper, son and heir of George Marshall, late of Diseworth, co. Leicester, and Katherine his wife, said George being son and heir of George Marshall of Diseworth, co. Leicester, and Margaret his wife.

Defendants.—Joseph Kniveton and Anne his wife.

Certain lands in Diseworth, Leicester, were in possession of George the grandfather, from him they descended to George the son, then to George the grandson (orator's brother), and then to Rebecca, daughter of George the grandson. All these people being dead the lands should come to orator, but defendants having got hold of certain deeds endeavour to defraud orator of the premises.

Marshall v. Stowe.—Whittington II, 114.

22nd Nov., 1673.

Complainant.—Sarah Marshall, relict of John Marshall, late of Diseworth, co. Leicester.

Defendant.—William Stowe.

Complainant should by law have a third part of the property of her husband. But defendant will not allow her to enjoy this, pretending the late John Marshall owed him money.

Marshall v. Trentham.—Collins II., 168.

20th June, 1664.

Complainant.—John Marshall of Diseworth, co. Leicester, gent.

Defendants.—James Trentham, James Abney, and others.

Complainant's wife being sister to one James Abney, late of Loughborough, co. Leicester, complainant with James Trentham backed a bill for the said James Abney; in other ways, James Abney and James Trentham (who is James Abney's stepson, being the son of his now wife by a former husband) became indebted to complainant, and now they confederate to defraud him.—Vol. i., pp. 144, 233.

Marshall v. Shelford.—Hamilton III., 399.

18th May, 1652.

Complainant.—Samuel Marshall of Much Waltham, co. Essex.

Defendant.—Robert Shelford.

Samuel Marshall married Elizabeth, daughter of William Shelford. William promised said Samuel, complainant, £80, as Elizabeth's marriage portion. William Shelford died before it was paid, and Robert his son will not pay it.

Marshall v. Chiborne.—Mitford I., 6.

16th Oct., 1605.

Complainant.—William Marshall of Orsett, co. Essex.

Defendants.—Cristopher Chiborne, William Hurte, and others.

Complainant should have some land in the manor of Orsett as great grandson of Richard Hurte, but Christopher Chiborne and the other defendants who are trustees for the property endeavour to defraud him of it.

Marshall v. Cowell.—Hamilton III., 457.

17th June, 1654.

Complainant.—John Marshall of Queenborough, marriner, and Elizabeth his wife, daughter of Thomas Smith, late of Feversham, co. Kent.

Defendants.—Jonas Cowell, and Francis Smith, an infant.

Thomas Smith left Elizabeth, wife of John Marshall, a legacy of £50, which defendants will not give her.

Marshall v. Cowell.—Collins II., 170.
5th July, 1655.

Complainant.—John Marshall of Milton, next Sittingborne, co. Kent.

Defendants.—Jonah Cowell, William Evans, and others.

Orator's wife, Elizabeth, is the daughter of Thomas Smith, late of Feversham, and should receive certain legacies in the shape of debts which were due from the defendants to Thomas Smith at the time of his death. But defendants will not pay their debts.

Marshall v. Rowe.—Whittington I., 496.
18 July, 1682.

Complainant.—Philip Marshall of Crediton, co. Devon.

Defendants.—John Rowe and others.

Philip, complainant, intermarried with one Agnes Lee, and upon said marriage put £200 in John Rowe's hands in trust for the said Agnes during her life. Agnes is dead, and now John Rowe pretends the £200 belongs to him.

Marshall v. King.—Whittington I., 33.
12 May, 1652.

Complainant.—Thomas Marshall of Abbott Ripton, co. Huntingdon.

Defendant.—Thomas King.

John King by his will made 28 August, 1633, left £60 apiece to his three children, Mary, James, and Robert. If any of these died the survivors to divide the legacies. He made Thomas King his second son executor of his will. Mary King married complainant, and on her coming of age received her legacy. Shortly after she died, but before her death James died under age. Complainant therefore claims a moiety of James's legacy.—Vol. i., App. p. 11.

Marshall v. London.—Mitford I., 60.
1st June, 1644.

Complainant.—John Marshall of Wimbish, co. Essex, brother of Stephen Marshall of Walden, co. Essex.

Defendant.—William London and Martha his wife, sister and administratrix of the goods of the late Stephen Marshall.

On the 8th of April, 1643, Stephen Marshall made his last will, and left everything to John Marshall, complainant, and his children. But Martha, the defendant, had letters of administration granted to her without right, and keeps all Stephen's estate.

Marshall v. Marshall.—Bridges II., 206.
26th May, 1699.

Complainant.—Richard Marshall of St. Clement's Danes, Middlesex, butcher.

Defendants.—Samuel Marshall a minor by Edward Stanton the elder his guardian and Rebecca his wife, Michael Bennett and Lydia his wife.

Hannah Marshall, late wife of orator, about two years since possessed herself of certain household valuables of orator's. The said Hannah, having done this, employed the said valuables in trade. On the 24th February, 1698, Hannah died when orator was away from home. On orator's return he found nearly all his valuables had been removed by Samuel Marshall his son, Mansell Bennett of St. James's, Westminster, and Lydia his wife, and Edward Staunton of St. Marten's in the fields. The confederates pretend they have removed nothing, and will not give the valuables up because complainant does not know what they are.

Michael Bennet and Lydia answer that they received some trifles from Hannah upon her deathbed, in return for £4 lent to Hannah by Lydia, who was her sister. They believe Hannah owned herself the things they received.

Edward Stanton says Hannah Marshall separated from her husband because of his mistreatment, and excepting the house which she had left her by her mother, Sarah Rolph, she had at that time nothing in the world. Edward Stanton and Rebecca his wife helped her in her poverty, but complainant never did, nor had Hannah any of his goods at her death.

Marshall v. Barker.—Bridges III., 282.

4th Feb., 1692.

Complainants.—William Marshall of London, baker, and Elizabeth his wife, and Anne Barker an infant by the said William Marshall her guardian. Elizabeth and Anne are daughters of Richard Barker of Rotherith, co. Surrey.

Defendants.—Richard Barker and others.

William Barker, grandfather of oratrix, had certain property called the Bell and the Little Custom House. This he left to his wife Elizabeth, and after her death to descend to his eldest son, and after to the children of his eldest son. Both he and his wife died, leaving two sons, Richard and George. Richard died some time since, and oratrices ought to have come into possession. But George the son of William the grandfather, taking advantage of oratrices' infancy, took possession of the property and shortly after died. Richard his son is now in possession and will not leave.

Marshall v. Pritchard.—Bridges IV., 422.

9th May, 1662.

Complainant.—Symon Marshall of Dedington, co. Oxford, executor of the last will of Elizabeth Gilkes, late of Dedington, his grandmother.

Defendant.—William Pritchard.

About 1652 Elizabeth Gilkes gave William Pritchard £200 in trust for her daughter Elizabeth Marshall, since deceased, and late wife of Edward Marshall of Dedington. Should Elizabeth Marshall die it was understood that that £200 should descend to orator, and failing orator, to his infant son Symon. But now William Pritchard, confederating with persons unknown, refuses to give up the money.

The defendant says the money was left in trust with him for Symon, complainant's son, and therefore refuses to give any account of the money to complainant.

Marshall v. Roberts.—Mitford II., 130.

18th May, 1658.

Complainants.—Isaac Marshall, Anne Marshall, and Martha Marshall, children of Margaret Marshall and infants, by Ann Shewell of Greet, parish Winchcombe, co. Gloucester, widow, sister to their mother.

Defendants.—Thomas Roberts, William Reeve, and others.

The infants' late grandfather, Giles Roberts, left to Margaret Marshall and her heirs an annuity of £100. The defendants now endeavour to defraud complainants of their right to this money, the will of the said Giles Roberts having been lost.

Marshall v. Love.—Mitford II., 102; Hamilton I., 237, 99.
27 November, 1650.

Complainants.—Erasmus Marshall of East Rudham, co. Norfolk, and Dorothy his wife.

Defendants.—Henry Love of Cranworth and Mary his wife.

Thomas Walpole was seized of some lands in Cranworth, in co. Norfolk, which he sold to defendants for £210. Shortly after this Thomas Walpole died intestate. Dorothy the complainant being his next heir claims £300, but defendants combining with others refuse to give her the money, pretending that Thomas Walpole has a son living.

Marshall v. Crofte.—Whittington I., 42.
12 Feb., 1699.

Complainants.—Robert Marshall and Anne his wife, daughter of Robert Croft, deceased, co. York.

Defendant.—Jennet Croft, widow.

James Croft, uncle of oratrix, was seized of lands in the parish of Leeds, and of a great personal estate. He died about 1643, and in his will left £20 to oratrix, besides other legacies, notably to Robert Croft, eldest son of Robert, oratrix's father, and Anne Croft, daughter of Thomas Croft, oratrix's uncle and testator's brother. But now Jennet Croft, relict of the late James Croft the testator, and his executrix, will not pay the £20 legacy.

Marshall v. Hodgson.—Hamilton I., 238, 108.
13th Feb., 1651.

Complainant.—John Marshall of North Allerton, co. York, grocer.

Defendants.—James Hodgson and Margaret his wife.

Complainant upon his marriage with Phillis Fossicke got a promise of a certain marriage portion from Lancelott Fossicke, Phillis' father. Before he was paid this both Lancelott and Phillis died. Now James Hodgson and Margaret his wife, daughter of said Lancelott and executrix of his will, refuse to pay the marriage portion.

Marshall v. Harrison.—Mitford I., 47.
30th Nov., 1697.

Complainants.—John Marshall of North Allerton and Elizabeth his wife and others.

Defendants.—John Harrison, Robert Thorpe, and others.

John Harrison and other defendants have through some means got hold of a great deal of the personal estate of the late John Scott, oratrix's father, and will not give it up to oratrix his next heir.

Marshall v. Fairfax.—Hamilton I., 221, 41; 229, 46; 234, 9; 235, 43; Collins, Dep., 128.
3rd Feb., 1708.

The answer of Thomas Lord Fairfax, Baron of Cameroon, in that part of Great Britain called Scotland, to the Bill of Henry Marshall, complainant.

He believes his father Henry Lord Fairfax, did borrow of William Marshall, the complainant's grandfather, £500. He believes Thomas Lord Fairfax, in the Bill named, deceased, was in his lifetime seized of the manor of Rigton. Henry Marshall's father was William Marshall and his grandfather was William.—Vol. i., p. 317.

Marshall v. Saunders.—Reynardson III., 3.

17th May, 1642.

Complainant.—Ingram Marshall of Newington, co. Kent, brother of Thomas Marshall, both sons of Thomas Marshall.

Defendants.—John Saunders and Alice his wife.

Thomas Marshall, complainant's brother, on the 26th January, 1618, made his will, and by it gave complainant all the lands left him by his late father, Thomas Marshall, in Newington. To Alice Marshall his wife £50, also £25 now in the hands of David March his father in law. To Alice Marshall his daughter £50, to be paid when she is eighteen years old. He made complainant executor, and gave him the residue of his goods. The defendants pretend the said will is not genuine.—Vol. i., p. 121.

Marshall v. Saunders.—Mitford V., 314.

14th Feb., 1649.

Complainant.—Elizabeth Marshall of Great Wytley, co. Worcester, spinster, administratrix of the goods of Elizabeth Marshall, late of Inchberrowe or Inclerowe, co. Worcester, widow.

Defendant.—Anne Saunders, relict of John Saunders.

William Marshall, deceased, had property called Cockhay, situate in Oddingley, co. Worcester, and died so seized. His son John entered into the premises and died without issue. One Elizabeth Marshall also died with a great personal estate. Oratrix is heir to both John and Elizabeth, and should inherit their estates. But Anne Saunders, whose husband owed the late Elizabeth £20, will not pay, and confederating with others also keeps from her certain deeds.—Vol. i., App. p. 10.

Marshall v. Mabyn.—Bridges I. 7.

25th May, 1650.

Complainant.—Thomas Marshall of Pomiestocke, co. Cornwall, and Honor his wife; Robert Webb of the same parish and Phillipe his wife, the daughters of one John Mabyn late of Pomiestock, deceased.

Defendant.—Andrew Mabyn, son of Alexander Mabyn, brother of John.

One Alexander Mabyn being possessed of some property called the Souther Beare Ball, Easter Beare Ball, and Norther Beare Ball, did about 1611, in consideration of a marriage between John Mabyn (his son and oratrice's father) and Anne Mill, daughter of Diggory Mill, convey the said property to the said John. Afterwards John being in need of money, regranted the said property to his father as security for the payment of certain sums of money lent to him by his father at that time. Shortly after this John died, and Alexander came into the said property. He also died, and Andrew Mabyn his son refuses to give up the property to oratrixes, who are entitled to it.

Marshall v. Prees.—Mitford II., 134.

23 June, 1658.

Complainant.—Thomas Marshall of Leomster, co. Hereford, yeoman, and Sybell his wife, and James Phillips of Southericke, ? Southwark, co. Surrey, gardener.

Defendants.—James Preece, William Preece, and William Webb.

John Morris, deceased, of Kinnersley, had in his lifetime certain lands in Kinnersley. He settled these on himself for life, then on Margery his wife, and afterwards on their heirs. John and Margery had issue, Walter, Elizabeth, and Johan, and they both shortly after died. Walter then entered the premises and married Katherine, daughter of Oliver Preece. Elizabeth, daughter of said John Morris, married and had issue Sybel, oratrix. Johan married John Phillips and had issue James Phillips, orator. Walter, the said son of late John Morris died, and Katherine his wife took possession. She has sold the property aforesaid to defendants, which she had no right to do.

Marshall v. Price.—Collins II., 235.

20th June, 1679.

Complainant.—Sybell Marshall of Leominster, co. Hereford, relict of —— Marshall.

Defendants.—James Price, Thomas Price, and William Webb.

John Morris, of the parish of Kinnersley, co. Hereford, oratrix's late grandfather, had some land in Kinnersley. John Morris died 60 years since, leaving Walter Morris his son, who died without issue, and Elizabeth his daughter, oratrix's mother. Oratrix ought to inherit this land as her mother's heir, but the defendants, who had a lease of it from John and Walter Morris, pretend it is theirs.

Marshall v. Price.—Collins II., 152.

The several answers of James Price, William Price, and William Webbe, defendants, to the Bill of Thomas Marshall and Sybil his wife.

They say they are willing to pay Sybil the £15 due to her as being daughter of Elizabeth, who was daughter of John Morrice.

Marshall v. Stephens.—Mitford II., 155.

Complainant.—Thomas Marshall of Oakesey, co. Wilts., and Margaret his wife.

Defendants.—Henry Stephens and Henry Blanford.

Margaret, oratrix, is the daughter of the late Thomas Earle. This Thomas Earle left her £80 in his will, and made his wife Margaret executrix thereof, and defendants overseers. Margaret has paid the £80 to defendants, but they will not pay oratrix.

Marshall v. Earle.—Mitford V., 319.

28th Nov., 1665.

Complainant.—Thomas Marshall of Oakesey, co. Wilts., and Margaret his wife, daughter of Thomas Earle, late of Kemble, co. Wilts.

Defendants.—Mary Earle, relict of Thomas Earle, and Henry Blandford the elder, of Poole, and Henry Stephens of Kemble.

About twenty years ago Thomas Earle made his last will and left oratrix £80. This money he put into defendants' hands as trustees for oratrix, and now they will not pay.

Marshall v. Coventry.—Hamilton I., 239, 60.

5th April, 1687.

Complainant.—Frances Marshall, widow, administratrix of the goods of William Wakelyn, late of Cashalton, co. Surrey.

Defendants.—Francis Coventry and Dame Elizabeth Hoskyne als. Coventry.

William Wakelyn was in the service of Dame Elizabeth, both before and after her marriage with Frauncis Coventry. At divers times he lent her money, in all amounting to £200. William Wakelyn is dead and defendants refuse to pay oratrix the sum.

Marshall v. Waterer.—Whittington II., 151.

Dec., 1684.

The answers of Frauncis Coventry and Dame Elizabeth Hoskins to the Bill of Frances Marshall, widow, complainant, also the answer of Margaret Waterer.

Margaret Waterer says she never took any of the goods of William Wakelyn, which she had not a right to.

Marshall v. Jeffreys.—Bridges, Depositions, Chas. II., 400.

Interrogatories.

Do you know complainants, Thomas Marshall and Anne his wife, William Bouner and Douglas his wife, and defendants, Herbert Jeffreys and Susannah his wife and William Palmer? Did you know Sir Henry Vaughan, knight, late grandfather of the said Anne and Douglas? How long is it since he died? Did you know John Vaughan, son of Sir Henry and father of the said executrices? How long is it since he died? Did you know Douglas, widdow of the said John Vaughan, deceased, and Frauncis and Henry Vaughan, deceased, sons of the said John? Do you know the manor of Kirkham? Did not it belong first to Sir Henry Vaughan, then to Francis (John dying before his father), then to Henry? Did not Henry mortgage the said property to Lady Rockingham, and did not Thomas Marshall and the other complainants redeem the same? Witnesses were examined at Blyth, co. Nottingham.

Marshall v. Jeffreys.—Whittington, Depositions, 807.

23 Sept. 1675.

Depositions taken on behalf of Herbert Jeffreys and Susanna his wife, defendants, to the Bill of Thomas Marshall and Anne his wife, William Bonner and Douglas his wife, taken at the house of Cristopher Conyers, in Stonegate, city of York.

Thomas Langley of the city of York, says, he knew Sir Henry Vaughan, Francis Vaughan, and Henry Vaughan, but did not know John Vaughan, but he believes the said John died before Sir Henry, and knows Sir Henry died in 1655, and that Francis Vaughan and Henry Vaughan are also since dead. The complainants Anne and Douglas, and the defendant Susanna, are sisters and heirs of the said Henry, who was brother and heir of Francis, who was son and heir of John, who was son and heir of Sir Henry. Knows the manor of Kirkham.—Vol. ii., part i., p. 107.

Marshall v. Glossoppe.—Collins V., 278.

25 Nov., 1681.

Complainant.—Gilbert Marshall of Banketopp, in the parish of Hope, co. Derby, and Margaret his wife, late relict of Edmond Glossoppe of Offerton, in the said parish of Hope.

Defendant.—Richard Glossoppe.

Robert Glossoppe of Ryeley, in parish of Hope, had lands in the said parish and left them to Margaret the complainant, his mother. Margaret entered into possession, but now Richard Glossope, testator's elder brother, tries to oust complainant.

Marshall v. Glossopp.—Collins, Depositions, 124.
25 April, 34 Chas. II.

Interrogatories to be administered on behalf of Gilbert Marshall and Margaret his wife and William Glossopp, infant, against Ralph Glossopp, defendant.

Did you know Edmund Glossopp late of Offerton, in the parish of Hope, co. Derby? Did you know Robert Glossopp, second son of the said Edward?

Marshall v. Crooke.—Collins II., 209.
13th Nov., 1672.

Complainant.—Thomas Marshall of Denby, co. York, yeoman, brother and heir of Richard Marshall, clothier, of Penistone, co. York, deceased, who died without issue about 1670. Richard's mother is Joane.

Defendant.—John Crooke, clerk.

Richard and his mother Joan borrowed some money from John Crooke, father of defendant, mortgaging to him some land lying in Showbread, also some land called Shacklerowes (? Thacker Rowes). If the interest and principal of said loan were not paid by a certain date the lands were to go to John Crooke. John Crooke, Joan, and Richard died. Now John the son tries to force the orator (who inherited the lands from his brother) to give him the land, though he is willing to pay both principal and interest of the debt.

Marshall v. Crooke.—Collins II., 209.
24 Feb., 1672.

The answer of John Crooke, clerk, to the Bill of Complaint of Thomas Marshall.

It was agreed between the parties that if Richard and Joan his mother or their heirs should fail to pay John Crooke, father of this defendant, or his heirs, the agreed sums upon the agreed dates, that then upon John Crooke or his heirs paying £18, they should have the property for ever.—Vol. i., p. 277.

Marshall v. Burward.—Bridges I., 33.
16th May, 1657.

Complainant.—John Marshall of St. Lawrence in Ilketshall, co. Suffolk, tayler, and Elizabeth his wife, formerly the wife of William Cullingforthe of Mettingham, co. Suffolk.

Defendants.—William Burward and Frauncis Burward.

William Burward, father of Elizabeth the oratrix and Frauncis her brother, did upon her marriage with William Cullingforthe promise her £100. This was never paid in the life of the said William Cullingforthe, and now the defendants refuse to satisfy the debt.

Marshall v. Emsworth.—Collins II., 118.
28th Sept., 1648.

The answer of Henry Emsworth, one of the defendants, to the Bill of John Marshall, complainant.

Anne Parkhurst was sister to Katherine Stedd. He married Katherine with the approval of Anne Parkhurst. Complainant was executor of Anne Parkhurst's will and defrauded defendants and Anne, daughter of Katherine, of their inheritance.

Marshall v. Stedd.—Bridges I., 26.

23 Jan., 1656.

Complainant.—John Marshall of St. Bride's, London.

Defendants.—Robert Stedd, Katherine his wife, and Anne Stedd his daughter, infant.

Anne Parkhurst of Southwark, co. Surrey, cousin of orator, did at her death leave him some money. This money Katherine Stedd, wife of Robert Stedd and sister of the late Anne Parkhurst, pretends should belong to Anne her daughter.

Marshall v. Sparke.—Whittington I., 34.

11th Nov., 1646.

Complainant.—Anthony Marshall of Howden, co. Yorke, and Jeane his wife, late relict of Edward Musgrave, and others.

Defendant.—Robert Spark and others.

Edward Musgrave gave defendants a messuage in settlement of a debt, but now defendants claim the debt from complainant Musgrave's heirs.

Marshall v. Fanshawe.—Collins II., 105.

11 June, 1649.

Complainant.—Frauncis Marshall, citizen of London.

Defendants.—Thomas Fanshawe and Katherine his wife.

Thomas Knighton was in his lifetime seized of the manor of Bayford, co. Hertford, He had two sons, Thomas and John, and he settled Bayford on John his younger son. At his death John entered into possession. John had issue George and Ralph (who had issue Anne, who is orator's mother). George had issue John, who died without issue. The property ought therefore to come to orator through Anne. But Thomas Fanshawe, son of Sir Thomas Fanshawe and Katherine his wife, pretend some right to the estate.

Marshall v. Sheere.—Hamilton I., 220, 28.

6 June, 1653.

Complainant.—Anne Marshall, widow, relict of Henry Marshall, late of Hackney.

Defendant.—Mary Sheere, widow.

John Knighton, esq., deceased, was in his lifetime seized of lands in co. Hertford. Upon his death the same came to his son Sir George Knighton, who died without issue. It then descended to Ralph, brother to Sir George, and he had one daughter, namely oratrix. But now Mary Sheere, confederating with others, pretend oratrix has no right to the property.

Marshall v. Gardiner.—Collins II., 130.

1656.

Complainant.—Anne Marshall, widow.

Defendant.—Mary Gardiner, widow.

The defence of Mary Gardiner.—She denies that upon the death of John Knighton, son of Sir George Knighton, deceased, the manors of Little Amwell and Renetts Hall should by right have descended to complainant, as John conveyed them away in his lifetime.

Marshall v. Stevenson.—Mitford II., 136.

31st Oct., 1660.

Complainant.—Richard Marshall of London and Susan his wife.
Defendant.—John Stevenson.

Roger Stevenson, who married Katherine Page, aunt of Susan, oratrix, owed Susan some money which now John Stevenson his son, his father being dead, will not pay.

Marshall v. Cholmeley.—Reynardson I., 408.

10th Nov., 1634.

Complainant.—William Marshall of Aslabye, co. Yorke.
Defendant.—Henry Cholmeley.

William, complainant, because his unmarried brother Thomas Marshall was very poor, intended to give him a close called Wrelton close. Thomas died on the 27th May, 1633, before the deed conveying this property was signed. Now Henry Cholmeley and John Armitage endeavour as trustees of the said property, to keep it for Thomas's heirs. William Marshall's wife is Alice.—Vol. i., p. 22.

Marshall v. Dawes.—Collins II., 243.

21st Oct., 1682.

The several answers of Drew Dawes, Anne his wife, and Elizabeth Nicholson, to the Bill of John Marshall.

Drewe Dawes says William Nicholson, late of Tuddington, co. Middlesex, was in his lifetime possessed of the lands in Bill mentioned. He was father of Anne and Elizabeth, defendants. The complainant never purchased the said lands from defendants, who came into a part thereof, but he may have purchased the parts which descended to Mary and Rebecca, sisters of the defendants.

Marshall v. Ward.—Collins II., 247.

10 Oct., 1683.

Complainant.—Richard Marshall, second son of John Marshall of Tuddington, co. Middlesex, infant, by his said father.
Defendant.—John Ward.

Richard Marshall, late citizen of London, complainant's uncle, was in his lifetime possessed of lands and houses in Prince's Street and Drury Lane. About the 6th October, 1679, he gave the said property by will to Elizabeth his wife. Elizabeth shortly after by will gave the said estate to Richard, her nephew. But now defendant who administered her goods, tries to defraud complainant of the same.—Vol. i., App., pp. 9, 32.

Marshall v. Beinton.—Collins II., 275.

20th Oct., 1682.

Complainant.—Edward Marshall of Worcester, son of John, infant, by Thomas Giles, guardian.
Defendant.—Richard Beinton.

Edward Marshall, father of John Marshall, and grandfather of complainant, had some lands in Worcester which ought to have descended to complainant upon the death of John Marshall, his father, which happened in May, 1677. But defendant, who is complainant's tutor, endeavours to defraud orator.—Vol. i., App., p. 27.

Marshall v. Whetstone.—Bridges I., 17.

1655.

Complainant.—Martha Marshall of St. Sepulchre's, London, spinster.

Defendants.—William Whetstone the younger, and Simon Marshall and his wife.

William Whetstone the elder, late of High Holborne, baker, about 1648 borrowed £25 from oratrix. Shortly after he died, and his son William the younger refuses to pay oratrix, declaring that William the elder died without any estate. But he has paid other debts, such as a debt to Simon Marshall and Martha his wife, daughter of William deceased.

Marshall v. Sacheverell.—Depositions, Bridges, 396.

4th Oct., 17 James I.

Interrogatories to be answered.

Do you know Thomas Marshall, complainant, and do you know Francis Marshall, complainant's father, and Thomas Marshall, his grandfather? Do you know the farm in Barton? Did Thomas the grandfather buy the same from Elizabeth Bougham?—Vol. i., p. 276.

Marshall v. Rudd.—Depositions, Bridges, 396.

5th Oct., 3rd James I.

Interrogatories to be answered.

Do you know the complainant, John Marshall, and the defendant, Matthew Rudd? Do you know Alice Brett was owner of the messuage in question, and the wife of William Hull? Did not Agnes Hull, daughter of William Hull, marry Richard Marshall of Chelmessed, and had she not a right to the said messuage? What issue had Richard Marshall and his wife?

Answer.

Four sons, viz.: (1) Thomas, (2) Richard, (3) John, (4) William, and two daughters, (1) Alice, (2) Agnes. Thomas died without issue, and Richard had John the complainant.

Marshall v. Cooper.—Reynardson I. and II., 408.

12th Feb., 1660.

Complainant.—Robert Marshall of Stradewood, parish Netherbury, co. Dorsett, son of Robert Marshall of Bowood, co. Dorsett.

Defendants.—Henry Cooper and Anne his wife, and William Marshall.

Robert Marshall the elder did about 1641 make his last will, and by it, besides certain legacies to his daughters, did leave orator £100 to be paid by William Marshall, eldest son of Robert the elder, out of lands called Pomehayes in Netherbury, which Robert the elder left him. He also made Anne his wife responsible for his (complainant's) education. Anne and William were executors of the said will, but they have never paid complainant his legacy. Anne has lately married Henry Cooper.

Marshall v. Fettiplace.—Collins II., 113.

Nov., 1651.

Complainants.—Oliver Marshall of Bowe, co. Middlesex, and Jane his wife, Cristopher Newland of Farnham, and Elizabeth his wife, and John Branch of Horsham, co. Sussex, and Ann his wife.

Defendants.—William Fettiplace and Anne Best, widow.

The three oratrices were the three daughters of Nicholas Best, late of Horsham, deceased, Elizabeth Ede was grandmother of the said oratrices. She died in 1625, leaving £40 each to the said oratrices. But now William Fettiplace and Anne Best try to defraud them of their rights.

Marshall v. Crompton.—Collins II., 139.

2 Nov., 1637.

The answer of Thomas Crompton, one of the defendants, to the Bill of William Marshall and Anne Marshall.

He believes that John Procter in the Bill named did make a former conveyance to Sir Richard Weston, kt., of property mentioned in the Bill.

Marshall v. Proctor.—Collins II., 139.

Complainants.—Anne Marshall of Ridgly, co. Stafford, widow, executrix of last will of George Marshall, her husband, deceased, and William Marshall an infant, by Anne his mother.

Defendants.—John Proctor, Timothy Rawlyns, and others.

John Proctor, late of Stone, co. Stafford, held some tenements, etc., in Bradley, in the manor of Alton, co. Stafford. This land, because of a marriage between George Marshall, complainant's father, and Elizabeth the daughter of John Proctor, was conveyed to the said George Marshall. Elizabeth, George Marshall's first wife, died, and his second, Anne, the oratrix, had issue, William the orator. John Proctor and others endeavour to keep this land from him.

Marshall v. Procter.—Mitford, Depositions, 678.

28th Feb., 1659.

John Davenport of Stafford examined on behalf of William and Anne Marshall.

He did know George Marshall, deceased, and Elizabeth Procter his first wife, and daughter of defendant, John Procter.

On the marriage of said couple, John Procter agreed to give the said George Marshall his lands and tenements in Bradley in the manor of Alton, co. Stafford, and to the heirs of the said George and Elizabeth. Failing issue, the lands of George and also of William Marshall, George's father, to go to Anne Procter, Elizabeth's sister.

Marshall v. Weston.—Collins II., 138.

The replication of William Marshall by Anne Marshall his mother, to the several answers of Sir Richard Weston, kt., Thomas Crompton, John Proctor, and others.

They say that the deed mentioned by Sir Richard Weston as having been indented previously is a false one. Elizabeth, wife of George Marshall, was daughter of John Proctor.

Marshall v. Weston.—Collins II., 139.

17th Feb., 1637.

The answer of Sir Richard Weston, kt., to the Bill of Anne Marshall and William her son.

He says it is true John Proctor in the Bill named by deed indented 8th September, in the third year of his now majesty, covenants to George Marshall and Elizabeth his then wife, all property in Bill mentioned. He had, however, covenanted it to defendants for certain purposes previously.

Marshall v. Cudmore.—Collins II., 123.

11th Feb., 1653.

Complainant.—Elizabeth Marshall, relict of Alexander Marshall, late of Loxbeare, co. Devon, for herself and Hugh her son, infant.

Defendants.—Zacharie Cudmore, gentleman, Edward Grave, and others.

One George Southcote granted the advowson of the church of Loxbeare, co. Devon, to the late Alexander Marshall, Hugh Marshall his eldest son, and their heirs for ever. Now defendants endeavour to keep Hugh out of his inheritance.—Vol. i., p. 109.

Marshall v. Smith.—Collins II., 131.

12 Feb., 1649.

Complainant.—John Marshall, citizen of London, sometime Queen's Bailliff on the then manor of Croyland, co. Lincoln.

Defendant.—Walter Smith.

Edward Smith of Market Deeping, deceased, got orator to lend him some money in April, 1631. This orator did, but Edward Smith, who was orator's uncle, put off the repayment of the debt, and gave out he was going to make orator his heir. This he never did, and Walter Smith, his executor, also refuses to pay the debt.

Marshall v. Langdon.—Collins II., 194.

30th June, 1699.

Complainants.—Alexander Marshall of Neither Stowey, co. Somerset, gentleman, and Anne his wife, daughter of John Crosse, late of Burlescombe.

Defendants.—John Langdon and Anne his wife.

Anne Cogan, grandmother of oratrix, did on the 15th January, 15th year of the King that now is, make her will and by it leave oratrix £70. She made Anne Langdon, her daughter, sole executrix. John and Anne have never paid oratrix her legacy, nor made an inventory of the late Anne Cogan's estate.

Marshall v. Langdon.—Collins, Depositions, 121.

Interrogatories to be administered on behalf of Alexander Marshall and Anne his wife, complainants, and John Langdon and Anne his wife.

What personal estate had Anne the complainant upon her marriage with Alexander Marshall? What personal estate did the said John Crosse die possessed of? Was not Dorothy Crosse, complainant's aunt, one of the executors of his will?—Vol. i., p. 77.

Marshall v. Francis.—Collins II., 202.

31st May, 1671.

Complainant.—Elizabeth Marshall, infant daughter of John Marshall, deceased, who was son of Thomas Marshall of Wellesbourne, co. Warwick, by Richard Wilson, her father-in-law.

Defendant.—John Frauncis and Elizabeth his wife.

Thomas Marshall the grandfather made his will 20th April, 1653, leaving certain property to John his son. Shortly after his death Elizabeth his relict married John Frauncis and took possession of the property unjustly. John, oratrix's father, dying soon after Thomas his father.

Marshall v. Francis.—Hamilton II., 240, 5.
29th Feb., 1675.

Complainant.—Elizabeth Marshall, infant daughter of John Marshall and granddaughter of Thomas Marshall, both deceased, by Elizabeth Wilson, her mother.

Defendants.—John Francis, Elizabeth his wife, and George Francis.

Thomas Marshall the grandfather held lands in Bradwell, co. Gloucester, and did about 1653, appoint, that Elizabeth his second wife, now wife of John Francis, of Wellsborne, should have the profits of said lands during the minority of his son John. The defendants pretend that John Marshall conveyed the said lands to them in his lifetime.—Vol. i., App. p. 4.

Marshall v. Perrot.—Reynardson IV., 101.
3rd Dec., 1686.

Complainants.—John Marshall of Warboys, co. Huntingdon, and Mary his wife, daughter and heir of Richard Perrot, late of Gamlingay, co. Cambridge, who was next brother and heir to Robert Perrot, late of Warboys.

Defendant.—George Perrot of Warboys.

Richard Perrot, father of oratrix had three brothers Robert, George, and Edward Perrot. Robert died intestate, and George took out letters of administration of his goods. But the real estate of the said Robert should have descended to Richard and then to oratrix, instead of which defendant has taken the rents and profits thereof.—Vol. i., p. 198.

Marshall v. Brackley.—Reynardson IV., 100.
1st April, 1687.

Complainant.—John Marshall of the Inner Temple, London, son of John Marshall and brother of Richard Marshall, who died intestate and without issue.

Defendants.—Richard Brackley and John Brackley.

One Luke Cordwell was to pay £900 for some lands in the parishes of St. Mary's and All-hallowes to Richard Brackley. £500 of this was in trust, however, to the use of Anne Marshall, wife of John Marshall, complainant's father, and her heirs for ever. Anne and John, also Richard, complainant's brother, are dead, and complainant should have the £500, but defendant will not give it to him.

Marshall v. Kirke.—Mitford III., 390.
13th Feb., 1687.

Complainant.—Isabel Marshall of the parish of St. Giles in the fields, co. Middlesex.

Defendant.—Elizabeth Kirke, widow.

The late Thomas Kirke of the parish of St. James, Clarkenwell, co. Middlesex, did by his last will leave Isabel Marshall, complainant, his daughter, a legacy of £35. He made Elizabeth Kirke his wife sole executrix, and she will not pay oratrix her legacy.

Marshall v. Capell.—Mitford III., 403.

10th May, 1687.

Complainant.—Richard Marshall of Brayles, co. Warwick, executor of the last will of Susannah Oakley, daughter of Humphrey Oakley, late of Brayles.

Defendant.—Henry Capell and others.

Susannah made orator sole executor of her will, and died with a great personal estate, chiefly in jewels and money. The defendants have taken possession of this estate, and will not give it to complainant.—Vol. i., p. 46.

Marshall v. Halford.—Mitford, Depositions, 679.

9 Jan., 1590.

Depositions taken at Shipton upon Stowre, co. Worcester, on behalf of George Marshall and Christian Marshall, complainants, against Henry Halford and Christian his wife, defendants. Richard . . . . . of Barcheston, co. Warwick, examined.

Henry Halford entered into an obligation of £100 with William and Jean Marshall, son and daughter of John Marshall, the condition being that the said William and Jean should enjoy all their lives the lands in Shipton upon Stowre, now in occupation of George Marshall.—Vol. i., App., p. 38.

Marshall v. Younge.—Mitford, Depositions, 681.

13th August, 32 Eliz.

William Marshall of the city of York, about 66 years old, was examined on the part of Richard Marshall against James Hobson, John Scott, Elizabeth Bainbridge, Jane Younge, and others.

He says he knows Richard Marshall, of London, haberdasher. He also knew Richard Marshall of Wakefield, complainant's father. Richard the father had some property in the city of York. He put the said premises into the hands of the trustees for the use of himself and Margaret Ellys whom he afterwards married, for their lives, and after to their heirs.

Marshall v. Morton.—Whittington I., 39.

14th April, 1649.

Complainant.—William Marshall of Stannington, co. York, and Anne his wife, one of the daughters of Richard Hoyland, late of Stannington.

Defendants.—Godfrey Morton and Anne his wife.

Anne, one of the defendants, is relict and executrix of the will of Richard Hoyland. In this will he left Anne, complainant, a legacy, of which defendants endeavour to defraud her.

Marshall v. Mostyn.—Reynardson IV., 116.

31st May, 1688.

Complainant.—Edward Marshall of East Greenwich, co. Kent, glazier, and Elizabeth his wife, sister and heir of Edward Crumpton.

Defendants.—Roger Mostyn and others.

Elizabeth, as heir to Edward Crumpton, should have come into some property in the parishes of Wrexham, Bromboe, and Pennly, co. Denbigh, but complainants being very old and living far away, the defendants have defrauded them of their property.

Marshall v. Hatt.—Mitford II., 94.

2 April, 1650.

The answer of Thomas Hatt, one of the defendants, to the Bill of Anne Marshall, widow.

He believes the said John Goodrich, father of complainant, was in his lifetime seized of a messuage situate in St. Edmonds Bury, and that he made his will, leaving his eldest son John Goodrich sole executor. He married Martha Goodrich, sister of complainant. He does not believe the said Martha owed Anne Marshall any money.

Marshall v. Burton.—Collins II., 154.

Feb. 1636.

Complainants.—George Marshall and Susan his wife, William Watson and Jane his wife, Richard Coward and Anne his wife, and Jeane Lewis.

Defendant.—Sir Henry Burton, knight.

John Lewis, deceased, had some property in the parish of St. Phillips in the city of Bristol. This property should by right descend to the complainants, the four daughters of John Lewis, deceased, but Sir Henry Burton has unwarrantably taken possession.

Marshall v. Newcombe.—Whittington I., 467.

23rd June, 1658.

Complainant.—Edward Marshall of Tadcaster, co. York, infant, by Mary Taylor his mother, late wife of Edward Marshall who was son of Edward Marshall.

Defendants.—Tobyas Newcombe and Elizabeth his wife, and William Marshall.

Edward Marshall, grandfather of Edward Marshall, complainant, had certain lands and tenements in Tadcaster, also the grandfather was heir to certain lands, then in possession of Anne Sainter his mother and orator's great grandmother. The grandfather's property descended to Edward, complainant's father, when in his infancy, and under the guardianship of one William Marshall, who was no kinsman of his, but whose wife was. Now the said William, combining with Tobyas Newcombe, endeavour to keep back the property from complainant, Edward the father being dead.—Vol. i., p. 116.

Marshall v. Pitt.—Collins II., 275.

6th Feb., 1681.

Complainant.—Joseph Marshall of Hackney, co. Middlesex, son of Joseph.

Defendant.—James Pitt, infant, son of Thomas Pitt, deceased, by his mother, Mary Pitt.

Joseph Marshall, complainant's father, lent Thomas Pitt, defendant's father, some money. The interest on this loan defendant could not pay, so he gave over some houses he had to Joseph the father, and told his tenants to pay their rent to him. The rent did not amount to the interest due. Since Thomas Pitt's death his son James unjustly claims the premises.—Vol. i., p. 196.

Marshall v. Towerson.—Collins II., 297.

4 June, 1685.

Complainant.—Thomas Marshall and Isabell his wife, both of the town and county of Kingston upon Hull, she being sole executrix of the will of Joseph Towerson of the same place.

Defendant.—Nicholas Towerson.

Joseph Towerson entered into a bond of £200 with Nicholas Towerson his brother. This bond Lawrence Towerson, their father, commanded in his will should be cancelled. Isabell, oratrix, was wife to the said Joseph, and is now executrix of his last will. And now Nicholas the defendant endeavours to get the £200 from defendant.

Marshall v. Williamson.—Bridges IV., 525.

Complainant.—Edward Marshall of the parish of St. Dunston's, London, executor of the last Will of Robert Burton, late of the parish of St. Andrew, Holburne, Middlesex.

Defendant.—William Williamson of the city of York.

Robert Burton had certain property at his death in the name of William Williamson. Upon the death of Robert Burton, orator, who was his executor, went to him and asked him to give up the property, but he will not, and pretends it is his.

The answer of William Williamson to the Bill of Edward Marshall.

He says for several years he has lived near the city of York, whereas Robert Burton lived near the city of London. He has had no business dealings with him whatever, and has certainly no property belonging to him in his name.

Marshall v. May.—Hamilton I., 237, 65.

29th Nov., 1654.

Complainants.—James Marshall, Peter Marshall, Jean Marshall, sons and daughter of John Marshall, late of St. Evall, co. Cornwall.

Defendant.—Humphrey May.

John Marshall the father was possessed of sundry lands called Trehar, in the parish of St. Evall, and about twelve years since sold the same to John Robins for £150. He had other personal estate besides the purchase money for the said estate, and died about eleven years since, leaving all his property to Humphrey May in trust for orators. Humphrey May will not pay complainants their due, although they are all of age long since.

Marshall v. Midgeley.—Reynardson III., 16, 18.

15th June, 1654.

Complainants.—Arthur Marshall of Ayslaby, co. York, and Elizabeth his wife, daughter and heir of John Myers of the city of York.

Defendants.—William Midgeley, William Mellish, and others.

One William Garbut owed John Myers great sums of money, and in payment thereof conveyed his lands in Sowerby, Bagby, and Thirske to John Myers. Defendants now pretend they have a prior right to the premises on account of a debt owing to them from the said William Garbut.—See Marshall v. Garbut, Reynardson III., 18, dated 15 June, 1655.—Vol. I., p. 19.

Marshall v. Hutchinson.—Whittington V., 232.
12 May, 1684.

Complainants.—William Marshall of Bolling, in the parish of Bradford, co. York, labourer, and Alice his wife, administratrix of the goods of Edward Sowden the younger, son of Edward Sowden, late of Eccleshill, co, York, and Martha his wife.

Defendants.—George Hutchinson, and Margaret Hutchinson, widow.

Edward Sowden the elder died leaving his son most of his property. Edward Sowden the younger died shortly after intestate. Alice Marshall, oratrix, should come into the property of both Edward the elder and younger, being sister to Edward the elder and aunt to Edward the younger, but defendants endeavour to defraud her of her rights.

Marshall v. Ivey.—Whittington II., 233.
25 Jan., 1689.

Complainants.—John Marshall of East Dereham, co. Norfolk, and Martha his wife, relict of William Ivey.

Defendants.—Shadrach Ivey and others.

Thomas Ivey left certain lands in Yaxham and Westfields to William his eldest son. After William's death the said lands should come to oratrix his relict, but Shadrach Ivey, another son of Thomas Ivey, endeavours to get the same from oratrix.

Marshall v. Thompson.—Whittington I., 477.
31st Oct., 1667.

Complainants.—John Marshall of Scarborough, co. York, and Elizabeth his wife, daughter of Cristopher Thompson.

Defendants.—Sarah Thompson and others.

Cristopher left a legacy of £1660 to oratrix his daughter, which Sarah will not pay.

Marshall v. Walton.—Reynardson IV., 78.
26th Nov., 1679.

Complainants.—John Marshall of London, gentleman, and Nathaniel Purse of Worplesdon, co. Surrey.

Defendants.—Thomas Walton and others.

John Berry, late of Southwarke. left complainants legacies, which the defendants, executors of John Berry's will, do not settle.

Marshall v. Warkman.—Hamilton I., 222, 62.
11th Nov. 1706.

Complainants.—John Marshall of Priavin, co. Worcester, and Mary his wife, late Mary Day.

Defendant.—Thomas Warkman.

Thomas Day, complainant's father, had some copyhold land in Priavin, co. Worcester. This should by descent have come to oratrix, but Thomas Warkman pretends it belongs to him according to the custom of the manor.

Marshall v. Curtler.—Whittington II., 177.

17th May, 1675.

Complainant.—Lettice Marshall, widow, formerly wife of William Hereford, daughter of the late Thomas Lucy of St. James's, Clerkenwell.

Defendants.—Anne Curtler, widow, Robert Curtler, and others.

A dispute about the estate of the late Thomas Lucy, complainant's father.

Marshall v. Wood.—Whittington II., 234.

9th July, 1689.

Complainant.—Francis Marshall of London, mariner, son of Francis Marshall, late of Erith, co. Kent.

Defendants.—Elizabeth Marshall, relict of Francis Marshall the elder, and Richard Wood.

In 1688, Francis Marshall the elder died intestate, leaving Elizabeth his relict and seven children, viz., John, Elizabeth, Francis the orator, Robert, Dorothy, Sarah, and Edward. Elizabeth administered his goods, and confederating with Richard Wood will not give orator his share.

Marshall v. Levitt.—Whittington II., 166.

15 May, 1672.

Complainants.—Richard Marshall of Hinckley, co. Leicester, and Anne his wife, one of the daughters of the late Thomas Hodgkinson of Adderston, co. Warwick.

Defendants.—Edward Levitt and Elizabeth his wife.

Thomas Hodgkinson by his will left Anne the complainant, his daughter, £20, and made his wife Anne his sole executrix. Anne died without paying the legacy and made Elizabeth her daughter her executrix. Elizabeth, now wife of Edward Levitt, refuses to pay the legacy.

Marshall v. Gore.—Whittington II., 231.

9th June, 1687.

Complainant.—John Marshall of the parish of St. Andrew, Holborne, son of William Marshall of Lincoln's Inn Fields, and Frauncis his wife.

Defendants.—Humphrey Gore, Samuel Stevenson, and others.

William Marshall, orator's father, was owed sundry sums of money by defendants. He made his last will on the 22nd February, 1667, and in it left orator his debts. Defendants will not pay complainant—Vol. I., App. pp. 13-15.

Marshall v. Cooke.—Mitford II., 244.

30th May, 1661.

Complainant.—Nicholas Marshall of Taunton, co. Somerset, and Elizabeth his wife, daughter of John Smith, late of Taunton, deceased.

Defendant.—Ruben Cooke and his wife.

Elizabeth Marshall should by rights come into some messuages in Taunton, which formerly belonged to her father, but defendants have taken possession.

Marshall al's. Hall v. Marshall.—Collins II., 154.

13 May, 1648.

Complainant.—Humphrey Marshall al's. Hall, of Wood, in the parish of Hope, co. Derby.

Defendants.—Mary Marshall and Jane Marshall.

Complainant owed Anthony Marshall £10, which he paid. The obligation however was never cancelled, and Jane and Mary, daughters of Anthony, who is now dead, claim the money.

Marshall v. Marshall.—Mitford, Depositions, 678.

Examination of witnesses at Exeter in suit between Robert Marshall, and Alice Marshall, widow.

Edward Salter of Exeter says he knew John Marshall the elder, sixteen years before his death, and John Marshall the younger six months before his death. John the younger is brother to Robert, complainant, and John Marshall the elder is uncle to Robert, complainant, and John the younger. He does not believe John the elder has concealed any of the property of John the younger.

Marshall v. Ball.—Whittington I., 20.

25 June, 1653.

Complainants.—John Marshall of Fenetterie (? Feniton), co. Devon, gent., and Grace his wife.

Defendant.—John Ball.

Richard Stofford, late brother of oratrix, held some land in Ottery St. Mary, co. Devon. Upon oratrix marrying with John Marshall the said Richard promised to leave the same to oratrix if he did not marry. He has since died unmarried, but John Ball and others have entered into the premises.

Marshall v. Marshall.—Mitford IV., 574.

1st May, 1696.

Complainant.—William Marshall of Wray, co. Lancaster, son of John Marshall of Wray.

Defendant.—Thomas Marshall.

John Marshall, complainant's father, was at his death seized of some land in Wray, in the Manor of Hornby, and a good personal estate. Being so seized, in June, 1676, he died, leaving orator his only son an infant, and one daughter Jennett, now married to Robert Fletcher of Mellinge. Thomas Marshall of Wray, who married the said John Marshall's sister, entered into possession of the real and personal estate of the said John in trust for orator. He will not now account for it. During his minority orator lived with Robert Marshall, his uncle, or father's brother.

Marshall v. Clarke.—Whittington III., 525.

2 Jan., 1697.

Complainant.—Roger Marshall of Lockton, co. York, and Grace his wife, daughter of Grace Clarke of Lockton, deceased.

Defendant.—William Clarke.

Grace Clarke, mother of oratrix, died in 1687, and left some money to oratrix. This money William Clarke, her brother, has in his possession and will not give up.

Marshall v. Woodwarke.—Whittington I., 497.

17 Dec., 1683.

Complainant.—Richard Marshall of Glaisedaile, co. York, son of George Marshall.

Defendant.—George Woodwarke.

George Marshall, by indenture dated 11th April last past, sold to defendant a parcel of ground called Ellercar Close, with proviso that if Richard the orator should wish to rebuy it within three years he might do so. Richard wishes to do so, but defendant will not keep to his bargain.

Marshall v. Marshall.—Whittington I., 36.

3rd July, 1650.

The answer of William Marshall, one of the defendants, to the Bill of George Marshall, executor of the last will of Elizabeth Cowper.

The defendant says George Marshall should not have the sum of £105 plus interest since the death of Elizabeth Cowper.

Marshall v. Hunton.—Whittington II., 149.

Nov., 1684.

Complainant.—John Marshall of Burstwicke in Holderness, co. York, executor of the will of John Hull of Holmpton in Holderness, his uncle.

Defendant.—Thomas Hunton.

Just before his death the said John Hull intrusted Thomas Hunton with two bags of money which he will not now account for.

Marshall v. Churchill.—Hamilton, 224, 71.

29 April, 1684.

Complainants.—Thomas Marshall of Ilminster, co. Somerset, physician, John Turner of Crickett, co. Somerset, Henry Backaller of Chard, co. Somerset, and others.

Defendants.—Margaret Churchill, John Speke, and others.

Margaret Prideaux of Whitelackington, relict of Edmund Prideaux, deceased, made her last will in 1683, and left complainants sundry sums of money. She appointed John Speke, her grandson, executor of her will, and he will not pay complainants their legacies.

Marshall v. Barnard.—Mitford II., 259, 66.

20th Nov., 1682.

Complainant.—Samuel Marshall of Stratford le Bowe, co. Middlesex, brewer, and Henry Quelch, and others.

Defendants.—Henry Barnard of London and Richard Greenwood.

Anne Chester, late of London, widow by her last will left the complainant legacies and made defendants executors thereof. Defendants have never paid complainants their legacies.

Marshall v. Izard.—Hamilton I., 223, 23.

26th May, 1693.

Complainant.—John Marshall of London, executor of the last will of John Bynold, son and heir of Henry Bynold of London.

Defendants.—Edmund Izard, William French, and others.

Marshall v. Woodwarke.—Whittington I., 497.

17 Dec., 1683.

Complainant.—Richard Marshall of Glaisedaile, co. York, son of George Marshall.

Defendant.—George Woodwarke.

George Marshall, by indenture dated 11th April last past, sold to defendant a parcel of ground called Ellercar Close, with proviso that if Richard the orator should wish to rebuy it within three years he might do so. Richard wishes to do so, but defendant will not keep to his bargain.

Marshall v. Marshall.—Whittington I., 36.

3rd July, 1650.

The answer of William Marshall, one of the defendants, to the Bill of George Marshall, executor of the last will of Elizabeth Cowper.

The defendant says George Marshall should not have the sum of £105 plus interest since the death of Elizabeth Cowper.

Marshall v. Hunton.—Whittington II., 149.

Nov., 1684.

Complainant.—John Marshall of Burstwicke in Holderness, co. York, executor of the will of John Hull of Holmpton in Holderness, his uncle.

Defendant.—Thomas Hunton.

Just before his death the said John Hull intrusted Thomas Hunton with two bags of money which he will not now account for.

Marshall v. Churchill.—Hamilton, 224, 71.

29 April, 1684.

Complainants.—Thomas Marshall of Ilminster, co. Somerset, physician, John Turner of Crickett, co. Somerset, Henry Backaller of Chard, co. Somerset, and others.

Defendants.—Margaret Churchill, John Speke, and others.

Margaret Prideaux of Whitelackington, relict of Edmund Prideaux, deceased, made her last will in 1683, and left complainants sundry sums of money. She appointed John Speke, her grandson, executor of her will, and he will not pay complainants their legacies.

Marshall v. Barnard.—Mitford II., 259, 66.

20th Nov., 1682.

Complainant.—Samuel Marshall of Stratford le Bowe, co. Middlesex, brewer, and Henry Quelch, and others.

Defendants.—Henry Barnard of London and Richard Greenwood.

Anne Chester, late of London, widow by her last will left the complainant legacies and made defendants executors thereof. Defendants have never paid complainants their legacies.

Marshall v. Izard.—Hamilton I., 223, 23.

26th May, 1693.

Complainant.—John Marshall of London, executor of the last will of John Bynold, son and heir of Henry Bynold of London.

Defendants.—Edmund Izard, William French, and others.

Henry Bynold had some property in Falkner's Alley in the parish of St. Sepulchres, Middlesex. This ought to have descended to John his son, and after John to different relations mentioned in his will. But now Edmund Izard, William French, and others, pretend to own the same.

Eliezer Marshall.—Collins III., 545.

28th June, 1672.

Complainants.—Eliezer Marshall of Ackwarr (? Wickwar), co. Gloucester, and Elizabeth his wife.

Defendants.—John North and Mary his wife.

Thomas Stephens, father of Elizabeth the oratrix, had some property at Winterburne, co. Wilts. He left by his will certain property to oratrix, and certain other to Mary, now wife of John North, his other daughter. Mary and John North try to defeat oratrix of her share.

Marshall v. Kent.—Bridges, 588, Miscellaneous.

10th Feb., 1707.

Complainant.—Benjamin Marshall of the parish of St. Bridgett, London; Henry Marshall of Cambridge, Edward Greene and Abigail his wife, and others.

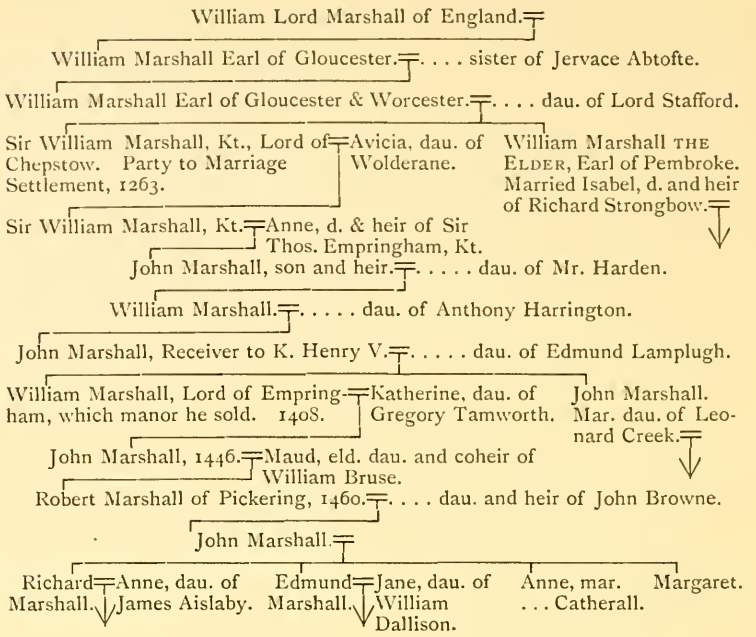
Defendants.—Charles Kent, Thomas Blick and Katherine his wife, and others.

Benjamin and Henry Marshall and Abigail Greene are children of John Marshall the elder, who was brother of Katherine, wife of Nicholas Severne, they (Nicholas and Katherine) being grandparents of Charles Knight, late of Kingston, that is the father and mother of Isabel, late mother of the late Charles Knight. Samuel Marshall of Portsmouth, co. Southampton, is son of John Marshall the younger, who is son of John Marshall the elder. Charles Knight in his will left £2,000 to his poor relations in London. Complainants and defendants both claim.

MR. MARSHALL OF FLAMBOROUGH'S PEDIGREE.

The annexed folding table is an exact copy of a pedigree in the possession of Dr. Collins of York, which is probably a rough transcript of one of those old vellum rolls it was the fashion for almost every family to have made in the sixteenth century. The writing is of the end of that period.

My reason for printing it is, that, although evidently fictitious as to many of the statements it contains, it throws a light on the origin of the arms borne by the Yorkshire and other families of the name, nowhere else to be obtained. It will be noticed that it has mostly been written without the usual lines indicative of descent, and that in the one or two instances where an attempt to give them has been made they are wrongly drawn. In the first two instances it is plain that they indicate, not only the father, but the wife's father also, and in the third instance there should have been a break between Sir Wm. Marshall, Kt., and Wm. Ferrers Earl of Derby. So far as the Marshall line of descent is shown it is evidently intended to stand thus:—



William Lord Marshall of England.
William Marshall Earl of Gloucester. . . . . sister of Jervace Abtofte.
William Marshall Earl of Gloucester & Worcester. . . . . dau. of Lord Stafford.
Sir William Marshall, Kt., Lord of Chepstow. Party to Marriage Settlement, 1263.
Avicia, dau. of Wolderane.
William Marshall THE ELDER, Earl of Pembroke. Married Isabel, d. and heir of Richard Strongbow.
Sir William Marshall, Kt.
Anne, d. & heir of Sir Thos. Empringham, Kt.
John Marshall, son and heir. . . . . dau. of Mr. Harden.
William Marshall. . . . . dau. of Anthony Harrington.
John Marshall, Receiver to K. Henry V. . . . . dau. of Edmund Lamplugh.
William Marshall, Lord of Empringham, which manor he sold. 1408.
Katherine, dau. of Gregory Tamworth.
John Marshall. Mar. dau. of Leonard Creek.
John Marshall, 1446.
Maud, eld. dau. and coheir of William Bruse.
Robert Marshall of Pickering, 1460. . . . dau. and heir of John Browne.
John Marshall.
Richard Marshall.
Anne, dau. of James Aislaby.
Edmund Marshall.
Jane, dau. of William Dallison.
Anne, mar. . . . Catherall.
Margaret.

The reader should confer this with the pedigree given in Vol i., p. 1. It does not appear who the Mr. Marshall of Flamborough may have been for whom this pedigree was made. Possibly Thomas the eldest son of Richard Marshall, who married the daughter of James Aislaby. In some MSS. he is said to have been living unmarried in 1584, and in others to have married Elizabeth, the daughter of Robert Norton, and had issue Marmaduke and Thomas. Thomas Marshall of Flamborough married in 1624 Anne Creyke, widow, and in 1634 tuition of his two sons, George and Thomas, was granted to him as administrator of Alice Creyke or Crake, spinster, the daughter of his wife by her former husband.

In a MS. collection of pedigrees, etc., by Gregory King, Rouge Dragon, now in the possession of Walter Rye, Esq., there is a pedigree which appears to have been copied from this. It is described as "The copy of a paper in y^e^ hands of Charles Marshall of London, Grocer, 8^o^ Oct., 1689," and was evidently produced by him when he entered his pedigree in the last Visitation of London. It adds the following items to this pedigree :—

1. To the marriage of Thomas Marshall and Elizabeth Norton, 1583, "3 flower de luces."
2. Ralph Marshall, son of Francis Marshall, Esq., married Betteris Saule, the daughter of Robert Saule, and had issue six sons and two daughters. Saule is subsequently spelt Sale. This is no doubt an error, as his first wife was Beatrice ——, and his second Elizabeth Sale.

3. Francis Marshall, son and heir of Henry Marshall, married the daughter of Richard Browne, Esq., and had issue William, who died without issue, and Ralph. This information is new, as all the previous accounts only state that he was aged one and a half years in 1584. Perhaps the writer confused him with his uncle, Francis Marshall.

In speaking of the arms of this family, Barry of six Argent and Sable, a canton Ermine, I observed, Vol. i., p. 3, "This coat is doubtless the original bearing of most families of the name, at least if one may judge from several others, evidently variations of it, recorded by the Heralds. I am quite unable to explain its origin, and to show in what manner it may be deemed to be, as all early coats are, canting." The story told by this pedigree of the assumption of the Arms of Empringham in lieu of his own coat by Sir William Marshall who married the heiress of Sir Thomas Empringham, explains the whole matter by showing that the coat was not that of Marshall, but the Empringham coat assumed in lieu of change of name, which was the alternative condition in the settlement made in the marriage of Sir William Marshall with the daughter and heir of Sir Thomas Empringham. That the pedigree here set forth is not accurate in many of its statements is I think unquestionable, but this does not in my opinion in the least degree impair its trustworthiness as to the reason why the barry coat came to be used as the Arms of Marshall.
